IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER.

The local forecast for to-day is fair, slightly warmer to-night, with a bare possibility of snow flurries.

For Thursday, much warmer, fair, possibly snow.

The "high" or clearing condition is still moving southeastward, but is decreasing in area and intensity. It extends from Toledo to Vicksburg, with its greatest cold at Toledo. The unusual temperature of zero was reported at Cairo, Ill. The "low" in the northwest has moved eastward and is now over Lake Superior. It will likely disappear northward to-day, but will leave the conditions favorable for snow among the upper lakes. On account of the proximity of this "low" the temperature in the Canadian northwest continues high. The lowest reported was 18 below at Winnipeg, while in the St. Lawrence valley it is 20 degrees below.

The zero line skirts the upper and lower lakes. The temperature is rising throughout the path of the cold wave in the west at the rate of 30 degrees in 24 hours. A temperature of about 26 degrees above may be expected here to-morrow evening. The highest temperature in the United States to-day is 52 degrees at Jacksonville, Fla. The lowest is 16 degrees below at Cleveland. The minimum in Toledo last night was 6 below, which makes it the coldest day since February 9, 1888, when it was 6 1-2 degrees below.

HALE ON THE WAR.

He Thinks There Will Be No Fighting.

Chile Would Be An Unequal Match.

The Yorktown Leaves With Her Refugees.

Movements of the Two Countries' Navies.

Chat From Washington Concerning the All Important Topic of Conversation—Warlike Preparations Still Taking Place.

New York, Jan. 20.—A special to the World this morning from Washington gives an interview had by its correspondent with Senator Hale, a close friend of Secretary Blaine, and a member of the senate committee on naval affairs.

Mr. Hale said he did not expect war with Chile. He thought that there would be proper recognition on the part of Chile of her fault, that the affair would be properly adjusted and that apology and reparation would be made by her.

He thought that the present government of Chile was embarrassed by the popular sentiment down there against the United States, which makes the task of the Chilean government very difficult.

Continuing, Senator Hale said. "If the Chilean government is coerced by public sentiment into hostile acts which leave us but one course—and that course is war—fortunately we are in a condition of preparation entirely different from what our condition was a few years ago.

"We have got at least 14 formidable ships that can be concentrated in Chilean waters and we have got 114 guns against 36 of the entire Chilean navy. There is no reason to believe that in the end the issue would be doubtful.

If it comes to war," he added, "it should be prosecuted with the utmost vigor and, of course, but one result can follow. That is the crushing defeat of Chile, the entire annihilation of her navy and the indemnification of the United States for all our expenses for the valuable property in the control of the Chilean government.

"Peru would form an alliance with us and Chile would take a secondary place in the South American continent."

The senator in conclusion said that in half a dozen years from now we would have, not the largest and most expensive navy in the world, but the best cruising ships, the best light draft smaller ships, and the best war ships in the world, without the expenditure of one-fifth of the money that European powers have expended on their navies, and he might have added that it is all due to the policy of Tilden and Cleveland.

NOT SATISFACTORY.

Chile's Apology Will Not be Accepted by This Government.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The Post says: "It is learned on good authority that the state department received information from the Chilean government that that country was ready and willing to make reparation for all losses to life, limb and honor suffered by Americans, but the dispatch or letter was couched in such terms as to be unsatisfactory."

LOOKS GLOOMY.

Both Countries Are Cleaning Up Thier Guns.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Indications point to war with Chile. There was a very important conference between Secretary of Navy Tracy and the members of the senate committee on naval affairs at the navy department last evening.

Just about the time the senate adjourned messengers arrived at the capitol with notes from Secretary Tracy for Senators Chandler, Stockbridge, Stanford, Gibson and Blackburn, the members of the committee on naval affairs.

They all went as soon as possible to the navy department, where a long conference was had between these gentlemen and Secretary Tracy.

It is certain that the business discussed was of the utmost importance.

Senator Stockbridge was seen at his residence later. He was at first disposed to decline to say anything, but when informed that it was generally known that the conference had taken place, Senator Stockbridge said there had been a meeting and it was called because of the gravity of the Chilean situation.

All that he would say further was that the situation was expressed by the statement: "Chile must apologize and make ample reparation or fight."

In the navy department circles there is much activity.. The fastest of the Chilean war vessels is said to be stationed at the most southern telegraph station on the Chilean coast, while the remainder of the squadron has gone to the Straits of Magellan.

WANT DEFENSES.

A Bill Asking Congress for One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Apropos of the Chilean situation, a bill introduced in the senate to-day by Mr. Hawley, chairman of the committee on military affairs, is of interest.

It provides for the appropriation of $100,000 to be expended under the direction of the secretary of war to procurement of necessary sites for defenses of the eastern entrance to Long Island Sound.

SAYS IT MEANS WAR.

Secretary Elkins Believes the Chilean Situation Is Very Serious.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Secretary Elkins is reported in an interview to have said that the Chilean situation is very serious and that war must come unless Chile makes ample reparation.

The whole matter, he said, is in the hands of the president and Secretaries Blaine and Tracy. The cabinet is in full accord with them and whatever they decided upon will meet the approval of the other members of the cabinet.

Want to Fight.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 20.—General D. E. Coon, who a few days ago wired the president for permission to organize a company of civil war veterans for service in Chile, to-day opened a recruiting office and secured signatures of a large number of citizens, both veterans and others who are ready to go on first transport.

New York, Jan. 20.—A special dispatch to the Herald from Valparaiso says the United States gunboat Yorkton sailed last night for Callao, Peru, with the Balmaceda refugees.

Secretary—C. W. Price, Electrical Review, New York.

Executive committee—Thos. J. Keenan, Press, Pittsburg; Stephen O'Meara, Journal, Boston; Dr. John Frederich; P. C. Boyle, Commercial, Toledo; H. P. Schmall, News, St. Paul; H. D. Vought, Courier, Buffalo; Wm. Berri, Standard-Union, Brooklyn; John B. Dampman, Herald, Reading, Pa.; S. G. Lapham, Herald, Syracuse, N. Y.

St. Paul, Minn., was chosen as the place for holding the next annual meeting.

The eastern delegates left here this morning for Sacramento, and thence go to Fresno, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and San Diego, leaving the latter city Sunday evening for the east. They will be entertained by the citizens and local press representatives at all points visited in the state.

IS LOOKING UGLY AGAIN.

Tennessee Miners Have Taken Up Arms.

They Are Doing the Ghost Dance at Coal Creek.

They Out-Number the Soldiers One Hundred to One and Trouble is Liable to Occur at Any Time.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 20.—Two thousand miners gathered on the hills about the Coal Creek stockade and kept up a constant fire of small arms yesterday, and held a semi-civilized ghost dance about the two small block houses which contain 200 state troops.

The miners came so near the military pickets that an exchange of fire was indulged in. None of the soldiers were hit, and it is thought the miners returned without injury.

Ever since a soldier accidentally killed a convict the miners have become more arrogant and aggressive. They swear that when they get ready they will exterminate the civil guard, state troops and the convicts, and forever end convict labor in the mountains of East Tennessee.

The officer in charge has asked for reinforcements, and one company of infantry has been sent out from Knoxville.

The miners say that no more soldiers nor convicts shall enter the valley.

A fight is expected at any hour.

The soldiers are well fortified, yet the miners can outnumber them 100 to 1. The Kentucky miners and those about Jellico are ready to join their Tennessee friends at a moment's notice.

THE REFUGEES WRECKED.

The John Elder Goes on the Rocks.

Balmacedists Fleeing From Their Native Country, Meet Disaster Off Caranza Point.

London, Jan. 20.—The Santiago correspondent of the Times, in a dispatch to that paper announces that the reported shipwreck of the steamship John Elder, off Caranza Point, is confirmed.

The John Elder, it will be remembered, is supposed to have had on board a number of Balmacedists who had sought refuge in the United States legation at Santiago, and who recently succeeded in making their way on board the steamer.

These refugees, it is claimed, shipped under false names, but they are known to the Chilean authorities.

All the passengers and crew of the John Elder, the Times adds, have been saved and are proceeding to Concepcion. The Times man, in conclusion, says that the local authorities will place all the refugees under arrest.

HAVE VOWED VENGEANCE.

Another of the Sims Gang Lynched.

Harry Hinton Executed on the Same Tree That Did Service in the Killing of Bob Sims.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 20.—Harry Hinton, a negro, implicated in the massacre of the McMillen family by the Sims gang in Choctaw county, was taken from the Butler jail by a mob and hanged on the same tree that served as a gallows for Bob Sims and other Simsites.

He was captured near Demopolis, Ala., two weeks ago and taken to the jail. To prevent mob violence the sheriff gave it out that Hinton had died of wounds received while being captured. The mob discovered the deception and the lynching followed. It is said that Hinton made a confession implicating others.

Newt Sims, Bob's brother, the only male member of the family now alive, was surrounded by a posse in Oakluppa swamp, Leak county, Miss., but escaped, a negro piloting him away.

Miss Belle McKenzie, the young lady school teacher who was wounded at the McMillin massacre, died Saturday and was buried Monday, making the fourth victim of that butchery.

MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The R. S. Dickie Manufacturing company, manufacturers of labels, has made a voluntary assignment in the county court to A. S. Moore, of 1006 Opera House building. Liabilities are given as $100,000, and the assets as $60,000.

THE POPE'S CONDITION.

Rome, Jan. 20.—The pope had a good night's sleep. His indisposition has nearly disappeared, and he is attending to official duties to-day as usual.

GARZA IS A PATRIOT,

Who Will Try to Overthrow the Rule of Diaz.

So Says One of His Able Lieutenants.

When the Grass Sprouts in the Spring His Followers, Mighty in Numbers, Will Make a Telling Fight.

New York, Jan. 20.—The Herald's Laredo, Tex., correspondent telegraphs his paper that he has had an interview with one of Garza's chief lieutenants.

The officer indignantly denied the report that they were bandits, and said they paid for everything they used. Garza, he said, represented a principle. He was a patriot, and was determined to overthrow the tyrannical yoke of Diaz.

Garza, he said, has over 1,500 followers on this side of the river. All the people are with him, and half the army. Garza was not yet ready to strike the final blow, but would do so in six or eight weeks, or not until the grass sprouts so that they might have forage for their horses and men.

The lieutenant concluded that they had a rich and powerful backing, and that when they were ready to enter the field their forces would be commanded by one of the most popular and capable men in Mexico.

Garza had no eye to the leadership himself, nor did he expect to succeed Diaz when that tyrant was overthrown.

A FIGHT DECLARED OFF.

New York, Jan. 20.—The match between Jack McAulliffe, and Billy Myer is virtually off. It was to have been for a purse of $10,000 to be hung up by the Olympic club of New Orleans and a side bet, of $5,000.

LAID ON THE TABLE.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The public printing bill was laid on the table, yeas 137, nays 102. So the bill is laid aside for this congress so far as the house is concerned.

HEAVY FAILURE.

REDMOND'S MOTHER DEAD.

Dublin, Jan. 20.—The mother of John E. Redmond, the Parnellite leader, and recently elected member for Waterford, is dead.

ORGANIZED FOR MURDER

Bleeding Kansas Has Many Troubles

Of Which the General Public Has Never Heard.

Evidence That Judge Botkin, Sheriff Dunn and Other Prominent People Were Marked for the Assassin's Bullet

New York, Jan. 20.—A special to the Times from Topeka, Kan., says the suspicion that there was an organized conspiracy to kill Judge Botkin-Pitzer, (an attorney), Sheriff Dunn and two or three other persons in southwest Kansas, has been fully substantiated.

There are three men, residing in adjoining counties, who have furnished information and whose forecasts have always been correct.

While they are not ready at this time to reveal the full enormity of this criminal organization, they have detailed enough of its operations to show that three separate oaths bind the members to obey the order of the inner council, even the high these orders involve the taking of life.

The members swear to obey these orders, even though they be commanded to take the life of their dearest relative.

In the counties of Haskell, Grant and Steward there are 65 members, all of whose names have been furnished Judge Botkin. These men are taken only from the alliance, and even then the utmost care is used in selecting proper material.

The meetings are held at Springfield and Woodsdale where the three degrees are taken. The first degree binds the members to stand by each other at the risk of life if necessary.

The applicant is pledged under the penalty of having his residence burned and his stock and crops destroyed never to reveal anything that may come to his knowledge concerning the actions of any member or members in the protection of their rights and in resenting any personal affront or injury.

If he fails in responding when called upon, or reveals any contemplated action on the part of a fellow member, his life may be declared forfeited by the action of the council to which he belongs.

In taking the final degree he places himself at the disposal of the inner council in life and death. He swears to faithfully execute any orders issued by the council.

He is given to understand that the power of this secret order of justice will be directed against the enemies of one or all of the organization.

A SWEEPING VERDICT.

Five Men Responsible for an Explosion.

A Searching Investigation Into the Fatal Disaster at the Springer Building Some Weeks Ago.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—After an inquiry covering seven days into the cause of the boiler explosion in the big Springer building by which five men lost their lives, the coroner's jury brought in a verdict last night fixing the responsibility for the disaster on Warren Springer, owner of the building, and four of his employes.

The verdict reads: "From the evidence we, the jury, believe that said explosion was the result of gross criminal carelessness and negligence on the part of Warren Springer and his employes, namely, Edward B. Gallup, superintendent of the building; Charles Schroeder, chief engineer; Wm. H. Cartright, head fireman and Martin Lyng, water tender. We, the jury, recommend that said men be committed to the Cook county jail and there held until discharged by due course of law."

The jury also recommends that the boiler inspector be given increased authority.

APPLIED TO THE POPE.

Sidney Boyle Wants to Marry His Niece.

San Francisco, Jan. 20.—There is much gossip in Catholic circles here over the application of Sidney Boyle, a wealthy young merchant living at San Raphael, for papal dispensation to marry his niece.

Boyle and his elder brother quarreled several years ago, but recently made up the trouble and divided a large inheritance from their father, who was a wholesale importer of woolens. Recently the brother died, and Sidney was made executor. A part of the estate was left to his widow and her daughter.

Sidney saw much of the latter, who is a girl of 20 years, and the result was that they fell in love. Being good Catholics, their only hope of getting the marriage sanctioned was to apply to the pope, which they have just done.

CHURCH BURNED.

Monroe Depot, Mich., Jan. 20.—St. John's Catholic church was discovered to be on fire last evening, and in an hour it was a mass of ruins. The building was erected 20 years ago and cost $40,000; insurance $10,000. Fire was caused by an overheated furnace.

JUDGE RUGER'S SUCCESSOR.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Gov. Flower sent in the nomination of Judge Robert Earl, of the court of appeals, to be chief judge of the court of appeals in place of Judge Ruger.

THE PEOPLE HAVE RIGHTS

Which a Telegraph Company Must Respect.

The Great Northwestern Held for Damages Caused by Making An Error in a Telegram.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—The court of appeals yesterday gave its opinion of the contract which telegraph companies have printed on the blanks which they furnish. The case on hand was that of Laurence v. The Great Northwestern company.

While Mr. Lionel Laurence was in New York one of his employes sent him a dispatch saying "Writing you to-night." The sentence was made to read "Waiting you to-night." Consequently Mr. Laurence made an unnecessary trip from New York to Montreal and sued the telegraph company for $200 damages.

The court in the first instance awarded $30, the actual cost of the trip from New York. The company appealed from this decision. The proof established the fact that the error was due to the negligence of the employes of the company, but the appellant set up the plea that dispatches are sent under a contract which declared that it would not be liable for damages resulting from errors unless the dispatch was repeated and then only to the amount of 50 times the amount paid for the message.

Such a contract the court declared to be contrary to public policy and any contract by which a party sought to fix the punishment for his faults was illegal. The judgment was confirmed.

THE DEAD DUKE.

All England Showed Genuine Sorrow at the Funeral.

London, Jan. 20.—The funeral of Prince Albert Victor took place to-day, and all England was draped in mourning. Business was generally suspended and all the church bells were tolled. The services were simple. Queen Victoria was not able to attend the services at Sandringham.

REPUBLICANS WERE BALKY

And Received a Vote of Censure in the Senate.

New York Democrats Have a Way of Doing That is Truly Refreshing

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20.—The judiciary committee of the senate this morning reported in the contempt cases a resolution of censure and ordering suspension of the three republican senators, Erwin, Saxton and O'Connor until to-morrow morning.

Senator Mullin dissented.

The report was adopted. The three senators named refused to vote on the enumeration bill when it was under discussion afew days ago.

FREE COINAGE BILL.

It Will Be Reported to the House in Three Weeks.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The committee on coinage, weights and measures to-day voted to report a free coinage bill to the house three weeks hence.

The proposition to appoint an international monetary commission will be reported adversely, the vote on this being 7 to 2.

DOWN IN THE DEPTHS

Went the Mercury in the Thermometer

Thirty-Eight Degrees Below Zero in New York State—People Stay Awake to Keep From Freezing.

A telegram from Tupper's lake, on Webb's new railroad, says the thermometer at daylight registered 38 below, and men camping out had to remain awake and moving last night to keep from freezing to death.

The labor camps are short of food. Nearly all of the laborers are Italian and negroes, and much suffering is anticipated if the weather does not change soon.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Jan. 20.—The mercury here at 7 o'clock this morning registered 20 degrees below zero.

Nyack, N. Y., Jan. 20.—In Rockland county this morning the mercury is at zero. The Hudson river here, which is nearly 3 1-2 miles wide, is almost entirely covered with a thick coating of ice.

KNOCKED OUT BY INFLUENZA.

London, Jan. 20.—Out of the 2,400 men on the staff of the London central telegraph department, 800 are disabled on account of the influenza.

THE POPE NOT SICK.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 20.—United States Senator Gorman was to-day re-elected by the legislature.

DULL AT COLUMBUS.

The Legislators Find Very Little Work to Do.

Scheming to Get Democrats Cut of Office.

Griffin Takes the Floor in Defense of Toledo's Tiernan Who Has Made Himself Particularly Obnoxious.

Columbus, Jan. 20.—(Special)—The legislature transacted no business of public importance this morning.

The senate was only in session half an hour, during which time an office was created for a Hamilton county republican.

In the house the entire forenoon session was taken up in discussing a resolution to appoint a democratic page boy from Coshocton county. It was finally adopted, when another one, giving a republican $50 for doing nothing while he was sergeant-at-arms several years ago was also passed.

Just before recess the swamp land resolution was taken up, with Mr. Griffin, of Lucas, in possession of the floor.

It is said that if congress passes the bill now before it, Ohio will receive $75,000.

Mr. Tischbein, of Hamilton county, has a bill prepared to repeal the law giving safe deposit and trust companies power to act as executors, administrators, assignees and guardians.

Several senators and a number of representatives have been in consultation over the way to proceed in preparing bills that will bounce Commissioners Norton and McBride from their offices.

Griffin and Tiernan.

Mr. Taylor, of Jefferson, has introduced a resolution to expel a Toledo man named Tiernan from the floor of the house. Mr. Griffin came to the defense of Tiernan, who had been a shining light in the Foraker campaign, and tried to defend him. Griffin was overruled and the house voted to refer the resolution to the committee on privilege.

Local Option.

Senator Rawlings has introduced a bill providing for local option by counties. It provides that the question of local option shall be submitted at each general election, held the first Tuesday in November, to electors of each county of this state. After the election the governor is authorized to issue a proclamation giving names of counties that voted for local option. Where it has been successful all persons engaged in the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage shall within ten days after the issuing of the proclamation discontinue its sale; if not it is considered a misdemeanor and punishable with a fine of not more than $100 nor less than $25, and be imprisoned not more than 60 nor less than 10 days.

The bill allows physicians to prescribe for its use in certain cases, and where the tax has been paid it is refunded proportionately to the liquor seller for the time that he is prevented from selling his liquor.

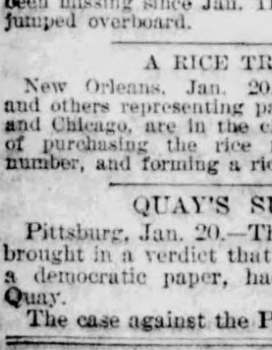
The case against the Post is now on.



Brimful of confidence in it—the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's a faith that means business, too—it's backed up by money. This is what they offer: $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure. They mean it. They're willing to take the risk—they know their medicine. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of chronic Catarrh in the Head. It's doing it every day, where everything else has failed. No matter how bad your case, or of how long standing, you can be cured. You're sure of that—or of $500. You can't have both, but you'll have one or the other.

Here are some of the symptoms of Catarrh: Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid, and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these likely to be present at once.

JEWELERS CUTTING PRICES.

COUNTRY v. HEN'S EGGS.

A Seventh ward grocer is the butt of a good deal of joking just now. One of his customers went into his store the other evening to make some purchases.

"Got any country eggs?" was the first question asked.

"Country eggs! I only keep hen's eggs," came the quick response.

This answered the purpose all right, as the lady had a horror of eggs by the incubator process, but the boys are making life miserable for the grocer.

SHE KNEW WHAT TO DO.

It was in a crowded car on Western avenue last evening. One of the seats broke down, occasioning considerable commotion. A woman demanded, in a high-keyed voice, why passengers were thus inconvenienced.

"Madam," said the conductor, "I don't own this car."

"I'll report to the company," she said in hot and furious tones.

"The company knows all about their cars, Madam," was the quiet reply.

"I'll—I'll put you in the Bee!" she screamed, entirely exasperated.

The crowd laughed and the woman's husband said "shut up."

STOLE A VALISE.

A man giving the name of William Anderson, a shoemaker, living at Binghampton, New York, went into the Merchants' hotel last night and walked out with a valise that did not belong to him. The clerk discovered the theft and, following the man, recovered the valise and turned the man over to an officer before he had gone a block. In police court this morning the man claimed that he came here from Detroit yesterday morning and during the day left a valise at either the New York house or the Merchants. He said that he thought this valise was his own. It was found, however, that he had no valise at either place and he was fined $10, costs and 10 days for petit larceny.

THE NEW LANCASTER STEWARD.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette has the following to say of the appointment of Steward Scott at the Boys' Industrial school. As stated in last evening's issue, Mr. Scott is a son of Dr. H. Scott, of this city, who, of course, is much gratified over the young man's preferment:

Mr. Wm. D. Scott, one of the cleverest, best fellows in the world, returned to his desk at the Commercial Gazette's telegraph room yesterday afternoon. Scott has been away on business, which has been brought to a happy conclusion. He has received an appointment to the stewardship of the Boys' Industrial school, at Lancaster, O.

Scott takes hold next Thursday, and his absence will create an aching void in the telegraph room. He can now tell all his funny stories to the waifs at Lancaster, who, no doubt, will be profited by the listening. The new stewad certainly has a soft place for the lads in his heart, for he was himself an inmate of the school when a boy.

Mr. Scott is one of the best telegraph operators in the city, and a gentleman of great personal popularity. He is 29 years old, happily married, and the father of the two prettiest children in the state of Ohio.

THE CHRISTIAN CONCEPTION.

The Buddhist clings to his Nirvana. The Mohammedan thinks of a paradise where he shall bask forever in the smiles of houries. Not a few other sects regard heaven as a place where the redeemed shall join in everlasting hosannas and hallalujahs. Only the more enlightened regard it as a scene of boundless activity and illimitable progression. This is the true Christian conception, and it is the only one worthy of the dignity of human nature.

The department of agriculture states that the posterity of one female sparrow in ten years is something like two hundred and seventy-six billion birds.

Hundreds of fish are still alive in the royal aquarium in St. Petersburg that were placed there more than 150 years ago.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly Governor Boies' Second Inauguration.

He Says the People Legislate Too Much—Australian Ballot Law Recommended.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 20.—The second inauguration of Horace Boies as governor took place to-day in the hall of the house of representatives, in the presence of a large assemblage.

The inauguration ceremonies were extremely simple and devoid of display.

The oath was administered by Justice Rothrock, of the state supreme court.

In his inaugural address, Gov. Boies gracefully acknowledged his gratitude to the people of the state for continued confidence, announcing his reliance upon the author of our being for future guidance.

"I cannot avoid the conclusion that we legislate too much," was the first sentence of the address paper, delivered impressively and with an effective pause, he proceeded to arraign the prohibitory laws of the state as having failed of their purpose, being disregarded by the entire communities otherwise law-abiding, and as making crimes of acts regarded as innocent by the best people of the civilized world.

He insisted that the people at the last two gubernatorial elections repudiated prohibition and urged the immediate repeal as the duty of both parties.

He recommended the passage of the Australian ballot law; urged care and caution in dealing with corporations; advised reform in assessment and taxation; recommended office of oil inspector be made a salaried position, and closed with an earnest appeal for patriotic and non-partisan legislation.

A COLUMN OF SMILES

A Disadvantage in the System.

"Well, I would have been engaged now if it were not for my chaperon."

"Did she interfere?"

"Yes; she became engaged to him herself."—Life.

End of a Romance.

Romantic milkmaid (to herself): I'm going to sign my name and address on one of these eggs before they are sent to market. Maybe some awfully nice young man, or maybe a real prince, will see it and write to me, and—

"Her mother (upstairs): Dollie! Dollie Dimple! Where are you? Come help me make the beds.

Small boy (in distant city, some weeks later): Oh, mamma, here's a name wrote on this egg. "Dollie Dimple, Meadowland."

Old lady: Land sakes! But this is a wonderful age. I'll use that egg in this cake. My! my! To think I should live to see the day when even the barn-yard hens get educated.—Street & Smith's Good News.

Hard Lines.

At whist, a gentleman loses the odd trick, upon which the rubber turned, through the bad play of his partner, who failed to respond to his call for trumps, and so ruined a magnificent hand and a good game.

"Hard lines," says a friend who was looking on, sympathetically and significantly.

"Yes," was the reply, "but what could one do against three such adversaries?" —Philadelphia Press.

A Dangerous Diet.

"Blaine's doctors say that his sick spell was due to something he'd eaten, don't they, 'Lije?" asked the president reflectively.

"Yes, sir. Darn those doctors, anyway. I know it was due to some grave chronic ailment which would make him wholly unfit to discharge the duties of the office me and you fill so well."

"Never mind that, Elijah. But when a man takes back something he said they call it eating his words, don't they?"

"Yes, sir."

"'Lije, I don't wonder Jim's sick. You remember how he promised me to write a letter before the first of this year?"—Chicago Times.

Deep Attachment.

"My son," said the senior, "it hurts me to see you stoop to the level of engaging in a controversy with such men as that fellow to whom you were talking. He is a constable and beneath you."

"But I couldn't help it; he has an attachment for me," said the son.

"Don't cultivate such attachments in life. Such people as he is can do you no good, and should be evaded rather than cultivated."

"I have been trying to evade him, for the attachment is on my wardrobe."

Unnecessary Solicitude.

He was evidently bent on suicide, says the Buffalo Express. He had waded into the edge of the water at Goat island and stopped as if deliberating whether he should make the final fatal plunge. Half a dozen tourists saw him and began to yell: "Come out of that!" "You'll be drowned!" "Save him, someone!" "Don't let him!" "Police! Police-" He paid no attention for a few minutes. Then he seemed to think better of his purposes and stepped carefully back to the shore. "What were you going to do?" cried several. "Gentlemen," he answered with dignity, "I was merely testing these newly patented never-wet-through goloshes, of which I am the inventor and sole agent. It stands to reason, gentlemen, that goloshes which all the waters of Niagara could not wet through must be—" but the crowd had vanished.

SHARED.

I said it in the meadow path,
I say it on the mountain stairs,
The best things any mortal hath
Are those which every mortal shares.

The air we breathe, the sky, the breeze,
The light without us and within,
Life, with its unlocked treasuries,
God's riches, are for us to win.

The grass is softer to my tread,
For rest it yields unnumbered feet;
Sweeter to me the wild-rose red,
Because she makes the whole world sweet.

Into your heavenly loneliness
Ye welcomed me, O solemn peaks!
And me in every gust you bless,
Who reverently your mystery seeks.

And up the radiant peopled way
That opens into worlds unknown
It will be life's delight to say:
"Heaven is not heaven for me alone."

Rich through my brethren's poverty,
Such wealth were hideous! I am blest
Only in what they share with me—
In what I share with all the rest.

CALVIN BRONSON'S WILL

Filed in Probate Court To-Day—Its Contents.

Col. H. G. Neubert is Made Trustee—The Sums Set Apart to Those Related to Him.

Ever since the death of Calvin Bronson much interest has been manifest as to what disposition he had made of his property by personal divise, as it was generally known that he had left a will.

This important document was filed for probate this morning.

Col. H. G. Neubert is made trustee of the estate, and also executor of the will, and is delegated to take charge of the estate, both real and personal, and assume absolute control. It is his duty to pay all debts of the estate, collect what is due, including all rents. He is vested with power to lease property but not to sell it. The whole estate is to be divided among the heirs, as he owned it in life and left it after death.

On the six grandchildren, Zoe and Letta Warne, and Dora, Roswell, Bell Messenger, Blanche and Charles Messenger, an annuity of $1,000 each is fixed.

Mrs. Messenger is allowed $2,500 a year.

Mrs. Susie Granger, $600 a year.

These annuities extend for a period of 20 years.

On David Bronson an annuity of $400 for life has been fixed.

The manner of distribution of the estate is considerably complicated. The estate is divided equally among the six grandchildren, under ironclad conditions, however.

The trust is to continue, with respect to the grandchildren, during the life of their respective fathers, Charles Messenger and Monroe C. Warne.

Upon the death of either the trust may be terminated as to any one or more of the grandchildren who have attained their majority, providing that in the opinion of the probate court and trustee it is deemed in the interest of the beneficiary, that the trust should terminate as to him or her.

Upon the termination of the trust with regard to any one of the beneficiaries, all of the estate, both real and personal, is to be appraised and the distributive share of the estate set off to the one who has arrived at the proper age, by the trustee. The real estate set off in the share thus disposed of is subject to the payment of its proportion of the annuities not going to the grandchildren.

In case the income of the estate is more than is sufficient to pay the annuities and other expenses of the estate, the surplus shall be devoted to the erection of buildings on vacant property of the estate.

Small articles of personal property were distributed to various individuals.

ONE THOUSAND COAL CARS

Ordered by the Toledo & Ohio Central.

Annual Meetings of Local Railway Organizations—Oil in Barrels—Other Matters of Interest.

The Toledo & Ohio Central railroad is preparing for a busy coal season. An order has been placed for 1,000 25-ton coal cars, and eight large 10-wheel engines. The road has also purchased 2,500 tons of 67-pound steel rail. Two handsome new passenger coaches have just been added to the equipment.

Regarding Oil in Barrels.

In the matter of allowance for cars loaded with oil in barrels, Toledo freight men were notified as follows this morning:

The joint committee has agreed that commencing at once 80 cents per car may be paid by the carriers for dunnage necessary to be furnished in order to put in a second tier of oil in barrels regardless of the floor capacity of the car. This will not, however, apply to oil exported as to which the dunnage will be provided and paid for by the forwarders.

Toledo Passenger Committee.

The annual meeting of the Toledo passenger committee will be held Tuesday, January 26. The committee did good work last year and brought numerous bodies to Toledo at one fare for the round trip, when before they would have had to pay one and one-third fares. Toledo is well situated for meetings, conventions, etc., and the committee will work hard during the coming year to bring the people here

A Sensible Party.

A very enjoyable private party was given last evening by the Toledo Railway Clerks, at Damon hall. About 250 ladies and gentlemen were present. One half of the hall was devoted to card playing and the remainder to dancing, so there was amusement for all. The party broke up at 12 o'clock—a very sensible hour—and the railroad clerk was as bright and chipper this morning as if he hadn't been out the night before. The committee on arrangements was composed of Herman Ruppel, J. C. Mullen, J. E. Connell, R. M. Conlisk and W. A. Kreiter.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

London wheat and corn market unchanged—steady, firmer. Liverpool wheat quiet—dull; corn easier, and dull.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 337,573 bus., compared with 192,336 bus. on the same day last year.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 138,253 bu., and from five other principal western points receipts are better 209,320 bu.

The export clearances yesterday from four Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 245,420 bu., and flour to an aggregate of 400,000 bu. Exports of corn 293,673 bu., and of oats 65,171 bu.

English markets as reported herein are unchanged and dull for wheat and lower for corn.

Bradstreets report of the visible supply of grain makes wheat decreased 1,501,000 bu.; corn, 164,000 bu.; oats, 743,000 bu. Pacific coast wheat decreased 381,000 bu.

The Markets To-day.

The wheat markets in this country opened at a decline this morning, upon the knowledge that the war declaration was a fake, but the possibility of such a contingency seems to inspire the purchase of wheat, and prices soon regained nearly all the loss. We shall be glad if one result of a war with Chile will be to advance the price of breadstuffs in this country, but we shall be glad of information as to why it should do so, for we cannot discover any good basis for the theory. Breadstuffs do not go abroad in American ships of consequence, and therefore such a war will not prevent the regular exportation movement in English and other foreign vessels. Neither do we believe it will affect our finances, unless Chilean war ships get loose and bombard Pacific cities, and that will not help prices. On the whole, the tendency will be in the other direction.

Corn has been a little weaker to-day, and prices have not been entirely maintained through the day.

Since above comments on Chile were written, it is announced from Washington that England has offered to mediate between the United States and Chile. If it is true, this government will not dare to go to war. Mediation and arbitration are now the popular methods of settling such disputes, and we presume Chile will also be too happy to accept such a way out of the muss.

The markets yesterday advanced on expectation of war, and after the Washington dispatch to-day, they advanced on the expectation of peace. It is immaterial how inconsistent, if only market advances.

The wires are in bad condition from the cold weather and we have no closing of foreign markets.

In New York.—January wheat closed 1-2c and May 3-4c higher. January corn 3-4c and May 1-4c lower. January oats 1-4c higher.

In Chicago. May wheat closed 3-8c up and May corn unchanged.

In Toledo.—A moderately fair amount of business was reported in wheat for May delivery. Opening sales indicated a decline of 3-8c to 1-2c, but the weakness was only temporary, and the market began to advance, recovering the loss, and closing at a gain over yesterday of 1-4c.

On the call May sold at 96 3-8c. After the call at 96 3-8c to 96 1-4c, and closed at 97c. July at close was quotable at 92c. Cash wheat was firmly held without much business. No. 2 soft sold at 91 1-4c early and closed at 92c, a gain of 1-4c. No. 3 soft at 89 1-2c to 89c. Rejected at 87c.

Corn was a shade weaker. No. 2 for May sold on the call at 42c. After the call No. 2 at 40 3-4c. May, 42c. January at 41 1-4c. No. 3 at 39c. No. 3 yellow at 39 3-4c. No. 2 yellow at 41c. Nothing reported in oats or rye.

Clover Seed was quiet but firm. Prime for cash at $5 60; March at $5 65; No. 2 at $5 45. After 'Change March sold at $5 67 1-2 and No. 2 at $5 47 1-2.

RIOTING IN HUNGARY.

The Elections Causing Much Blood to Flow.

Police Called to the Scene But Are Unable to Stop the Fighting Until Murder Has Been Committed.

Pesth, Jan. 20.—There has been much disorder at the electioneering meetings all over the country. Political feeling runs high and supporters of rival candidates often come to blows.

A meeting in southern Hungary Sunday ended in a savage fight in which two men were killed and many injured.

There was a riot at another meeting at Kispatak Monday. The police appeared on the scene and with difficulty put a stop to the fighting, but not until two of the combatants were shot dead and five seriously hurt.

Much of the animosity is caused by the use of inflammatory language against the Jews. A Jewish school at Karhan was wrecked by rioters and several persons were wounded.

FARM AND GARDEN.

What Good Roads Would Mean.

What would good stone roads all the year round mean to the American farmer? The answer to this question is not necessarily a speculative one. Good roads are to be found in Europe, and in certain localities in this country and Canada. It is not to be questioned that the effect on the American farmer as a rule would be about the same as it has been in the favored localities, and judging from the experience of those communities which have been blessed by good public highways, we may mention the following as some of the desirable results which would follow their general adoption:

They would make it possible for the farmer to take advantage promptly of the highest market, no matter at what season of the year.

They would save him days and weeks of time which he wastes every year wallowing through the disgusting mire of dirt roads.

They would reduce to a minimum the wear and tear on wagons and carriages.

They would lessen the expense in keeping horses in working order, and vastly less horses would be required in a county to perform the farmers' work.

They would require less expense to keep them in repair than do the dirt roads.

They would make it easier for a team to pull several tons over their smooth surface than to drag a wagon through the mud.

They would afford ready communication with the outside world at all times of the year.

They would spare the farmer many vexations and nervous strains.

They would practically shorten the distance to the local market.

They would increase the demand for country and suburban property.

They would be free from dirt in summer, and mud and ruts in fall, winter and spring.

They would bring every farming community into closer social relations.

They would make an evening's drive a pleasure instead of a vexation, as it is now.

They would do away with the absurd poll tax and supervisor system in places where it is still in use.

They would be, in short, the best possible investment to the taxpayer, if built and cared for by the national government and paid for by a national tax.

Use of Nitrates on Wheat Ground.

The superiority of nitrate of soda over ammonia salts as a source of nitrogen for wheat is well known; but comparatively little seems to have been done to test the relative value of the nitrogen in such organic compounds as are generally used in commercial fertilizers and that of nitrates or ammonia compounds.

An experiment was therefore undertaken to test this matter in the field. The forms of nitrogen employed were nitrate of soda, sulphate of ammonia and dried blood or azotine. The land used had been cropped with wheat for a number of years, and the available nitrogen seemed to be nearly exhausted. The soil was a dark clay loam containing considerable sand and rested upon gravel, which gave a drainage that is excessive in seasons where there is not an abundance of rainfall.

To the whole land enough dissolved bone-black and muriate of potash were applied to furnish the phosphoric acid and potash for three thirty-bushel crops of wheat.

Sixty-three plats were laid off, each forty-nine feet four inches by four feet, and a space one foot wide left between the plates. Nitrogen was applied to every alternate plat so that each plat that received nitrogen was compared with a plat on each side of it that received no nitrogen. The wheat was drilled in November 6, and the first nitrogen was applied November 12. There were six rows to each plat and two rows in the spaces between the plats.

The main purpose was to find the form of nitrogen best adapted to wheat, while an attempt was also made to find if, in field practice, there was any advantage in fractional application of the different forms and whether any advantage would arise from changing the form of nitrogen applied at different stages of the growth of the plant. In all 200 grams of nitrogen were applied to each plant receiving nitrogen. On certain plants all the nitrogen was applied in the fall, on others one-half was applied in the fall and one-half at the opening of spring, April 15, and on others one-third was applied in the fall, one-third April 15, and one-third May 18, when the heads were just appearing. The wheat was harvested June 29. An examination of the results shows that in no case was any marked advantage derived from fractional applications, while in the case of the ammonia compound a decided advantage (sixteen per cent.) arose from making the application in the fall. Nitrate of soda gave the best results, sulphate of ammonia followed, while dried blood gave the poorest result. Nitrate of soda gave a gain of 98.4 per cent. of grain 105.5 per cent. of straw. Sulphate of ammonia gave a gain of 54.4 per cent. of grain and 6.60 per cent. of straw.

will keep the bugs out of beans without hindering the beans from growing?"

If everybody would be careful and not plant "buggy" peas and beans or destroy all the beetles before they escape from the seed, we would soon have no weevils in our peas and beans. This will probably not be soon, but everyone can do much to protect his own plants so as to reduce the number in his crop, for the weevil we find in the pea or bean in spring has hatched from an egg laid upon the outside of the pod while green the previous season.

When the egg hatches the larvae eat through the pod into the growing seed within and continues to grow with it. The larvae are so small that the openings soon close after them and we can see no trace of them, so we eat a goodly number of them in our "green peas" and "shell beans." If the peas and beans are allowed to ripen the larvae mature, penetrate the cell formed by them, change to the imago ready to emerge in the spring and again start the same cycle.

No beetle should be allowed to escape. The remedy most commonly used is to immerse the peas in hot water for a short time till the weevils are scalded. This will not injure the germination.

One lady poured coal oil over a sack of beans till all were thoroughly saturated. The beans thus treated grew as well as those that were not.

A small quantity of bisulphide of carbon poured into a tight vessel containing the infested peas or beans will make quick work with the weevils. Care must be taken, however, in using this liquid, that fire or light are not in the room, as it is a dangerous explosive under such circumstances. This is probably the most desirable remedy where there are large quantities to be treated.—Farm, Field and Stockman.

Manure Wasting.

To a considerable extent the manner of handling or managing the manure on the farm is undergoing a change. Many that formerly considered it necessary to rot thoroughly before hauling out and applying are now willing to haul out fresh from the stables. Many that considered it best to haul out and apply on stubble land and then plow under as soon as possible, will now apply on plowed land during the winter, as on grass land, and allow the rain or snow to carry into the soil.

It used to be considered a great waste to apply manure on the surface and let it remain ever so short a time, especially fresh, coarse manure direct from the stables, under the impression that there was a very considerable loss by evaporation and leaching.

In many cases there is some loss of ammonia by evaporation, but that amount is comparatively small, while under anything like ordinary conditions the loss by leaching is not any more than if left in the stable or feed lots if as much, as the soil will take up a large percent. of the soluble portions if the application is made either on plowed land or meadows.

On hard smooth stubble land and especially if badly broken a hard beating rain may carry some of the soluble portions away. But with a little management there can always be either land plowed in the fall intended to be planted to some crop in the spring or meadow land upon which all of the manure that can be secured on the farm during the winter can be hauled out and applied.

Hauling direct lessens the handling and in a majority of cases the best management now is to haul direct from the stables or sheds to the fields. Good results can be secured by spreading broad cast over the grass land or clover or on land plowed in the fall to be planted to crops in the spring. Care should always be taken to spread evenly especially on grass lands.

In a majority of cases better results can be secured by surface manuring than to apply and plow under, as in many cases this puts a good per cent. of the manure too deep to be of a great deal of benefit to the plants, especially to that class the roots of which grow near the surface.—N. J. Shepherd, in Farm, Field and Stockman.

Hints for Farmers.

On sandy soil the ashes from coal, after being sifted, will be found useful around trees, not so much for their fertilizing value as for their usefulness in tending to render the soil not so light. Coal ashes are said to be equal to clay on sandy soil, and as clay and sand are mixed with advantge, when soils are light or heavy, the use of coal ashes, which are always in a fine condition, should not be omitted on light soil.

Before beginning the new year, look over the past seasons and endeavor to learn where and when the mistakes were made. It is the mistakes that cause loss, and if they can be avoided the opportunities for making a profit will be increased. The farmer who does not make use of the experience of previous years to guide him in his future operations will make but little progress.

Keep ducks on a dry floor. Though the duck will remain on the water during the day, it will not thrive on damp sleeping places. Use plenty of straw on the floor, and have the quarters secure against cold draughts at night.

It does not pay to feed potatoes to stock unless they are very low in price. In proportion to the amount of solid matter in pototoes (they being composed mostly of water) they are expensive, and should only be substituted for grain as an article of diet in promoting the condition of animals bya change of food.

The experiment of burning old strawberry beds over, while the ground is frozen, has given good results to those who have practiced it. The plants come out thick and strong in the spring, and some growers maintain that it is equivalent to having a new bed of young plants.

The Indian game fowl is fast becoming a favorite as a table fowl. Among the new breeds introduced are Buff Leghorns, which will no doubt find a leading place, as they are excellent layers and foragers.

No better grain can be used for sheep than oats. They will thrive well on oats and plenty of hay. If oats are given with cut straw and the ration varied by allowing cornmeal and sliced turnips occasionally, the sheep will thrive. With a liberal allowance of grain, sheep will consume many coarse foods that other stock will not accept.

Too much dry food in winter is often the cause of costiveness. If there is ensilage to feed, this condition may be avoided, but roots should be allowed where ensilage cannot be had. Some stockmen make use of linseed meal, giving only a gill a day to each horse or cow, at the beginning, and gradually increasing the allowance to half a pint, until the bowels become regular.

TOLEDO, OHIO, JANUARY 20, 1892.

The voice of the country is for war.

That old familar local option bill has re-appeared in the legislature.

Mr. President, when you get ready to fight call out enough troops to do the job with neatness and despatch.

Representative Donovan would be pleased to have his district left intact, accoding to the plan of Mr. Williams, of Williams.

That party newspaper will render its party greatest service which shall the most earnestly support the administration in sustaining the honor and dignity of the republic.

It may that after Chile shall be soundly thrashed pan-American ideas of peace arbitration, unity and good will, will command greater respect and support among all the South American republics.

Chicago has wisely concluded that the world's fair is about all she can attend to and has withdrawn from the convention contest. Cincinnati, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Detroit, New York and Indianapolis are still in the ring with their boxing gloves on.

The time for parleying with Chile has passed. It is now time for the display of such force on land and water as will teach Chile a severe lesson and serve as warning to other nations to behave themselves when dealing with the interests that may affect either the government or the people of the United States.

If the gas trustees could give the citizens of Toledo reliable assurance that more money would secure much more gas, and that the main pipe is sufficiently large to transport enough gas to supply eighty miles of service pipe, there would be no doubt as to the supply of more money. But there's the rub. They can't.

"Home News for the Press Pilgrims" was the tasteful and cheering head-line of the San Francisco Chronicle extra that greeted the Press club party on their arrival in the metropolitan city of the Pacific coast. 'Twas a splendid exhibition of journalistic enterprise that the boys and girls of the press fully appreciated. The jolly crowd will receive royal welcome in Toledo.

Our esteemed exchanges should waste no time speculating as to whether Gov. McKinley will veto a gerrymander bill. They should remember that the governor of Ohio has not the veto power. Perhaps, had that power vested in him, Gov. McKinley would not have spoken so bravely on this point in his message. The advice he gave was good and proper, but no responsibility will rest upon him if the advice is not followed.

Secretary Noble urges the preservation of the American forests, and every intelligent man will say amen. The way to do it is to place lumber on the free list, as proposed in the bill prepared by Congressman Bryan, of Nebraska. The tariff on lumber costs Nebraska farmers a million dollars yearly, and Congressman Bryan evidently knows what he is there for, when he calls upon congress to repeal that duty. But its repeal will have the far wider and desirable effect of stopping the wholesale destruction of our own timber.

One of two things may happen between now and March 15. The nations which President Harrison threatens with a McKinley club may come to his reciprocity terms, or the supreme court may decide that the extraordinary power with which the last republican congress sought to clothe the chief executive is unconstitutional. And neither of these things may happen, and the 15th of March will come and go, just the same. And then it may be discovered that the great game of freeze-out is one at which two nations can play, and neither of them make anything out of it.

The great thoughts of Grover Cleveland's Jackson day speech grow upon the people. He may not be the next candidate for president. He may never again hold, or desire, public office. But his honorable place in the future annals of this country is fixed, and he has won it by his exposition, in word and deed, of the true principles of democratic government; by his apprehension of and faith in the dignity of American citizenship. In the pages of the future, when the brief roll of the statesmen of to-day is recorded, the name of Grover Cleveland will lead all the rest.

The report made by Clarkson and Alger, after their interview with Secretary Blaine, that he would not be a presidential candidate this year, is received with a sniff of incredulity, not only by the Blainiacs, but by the country generally. Our latest advices indicate that the probable truth of the report rests upon the fact that the secretary of state is indeed a broken-down man. And yet, so impressed upon the people is the Blaine method of duplicity, were an official bulletin to be issued to-day from the Blaine residence that the secretary of state is at death's door, nine out of ten among politicians of both parties would think it a possum game.

The London Free Press calls down United States Immigration Inspector Goff, stationed at Montreal, reminding him that his government has sent in no official information to tally with his threat. This threat was to the effect that if Canadian authorities refused to join the States' officers in the proper inspection of immigrants at seaboard ports, then the United States would establish rules for inspection on railway trains before they should cross the border. The plan is good enough to have governmental sanction if it has not. Some scheme will be devised to prevent Canadians collecting poll tax from immigrants of all kinds and classes and passing them over the border for us to take care of.

The funeral of the Duke of Clarence to-day, took place from the same solemn and stately chapel which was about to be decorated for the event of his marriage, and another parcel of royal dust was deposited in that charnel house of the centuries, the crowded marbles of which are worth the wealth of a continent. But the same heartache was in the breast of the Princess, as she passed with her courtly train under the wonderful ceiling of Henry the Seventh chapel, as bows the head of the poor mother who walks alone with only the blue sky above her, behind a pine coffin that will be lowered into the earth in an obscure corner of God's half-acre. There will be the same unbearable loneliness in the palace hall as in the humble cottage from which the dear life has gone out forever. Love and death are the great levelers. Before their mighty power the joys and sorrows of the world's great family are alike and one.

A redistricting bill which the new statesman from Williams introduced yesterday places Lucas, Erie and Ottawa in one district. From a party standpoint democrats will not object to that arrangement, though upon business grounds Erie and Lucas should be separated. The harbors of Toledo and Sandusky will each receive more generous attention in congress if two instead of one congressman represent this corner of Ohio.

Perhaps the meanest partisan manifestation the country has yet witnessed is the "picayune" names republican organs are showering upon the democratic congress because it is trying to retrench, and arrange to fulfill, as nearly as possible, the pledges given by the reckless 51st of unsavory memory. In its two sessions, the last congress authorized the expenditure of $300,000,000 more than the public revenue would warrant, and $65,000,000 of these appropriations are left over for the present congress to meet. With such a load as this to carry, the direct result of the reckless extravagance and corruption of its predecessor, it is quite too much to be endured with patience, that the guilty party shall enjoy itself sneering at "democratic economy." It is a meanness that only the worst element of the worst party in the country could be guilty of. If the present congress does its whole duty, it will overturn some of the rotton "bureaus" in Washington, and show to the inquiring people how their money has been squandered.

Politics in the Hoosier state are thickening up to the degree of Ohio consistency. The secrets of 1888, the blocks-of-five conspiracy and all that pertains thereto are threatened divulgence through an at-present nameless lawyer of Indianapolis, a republican who relates what he saw and heard. Dudley, he says, is a saint, compared with the man in the white house and law-partner Miller, who distributed boodle. Dudley wrote the blocks-of-five letter to be sure and did all the work and wonderful work it was. He had agents in every township making a house to house canvass and they received the necessary "persuasion" in instalments from the law firm in Indianapolis. Says this volunteer informant, "when Dudley is vindicated, the man in the white house is under an inky cloud. If the facts were known there would be no more wonder at Judge Woods' famous ruling or at his appointment to office."

All this may be a feature of Indiana politics just now when the administration forces are attempting to possess themselves of the state, but the reasonable color of it, and the manner in which the disclosures dove-tail with the known facts is something startling.

A VIGOROUS POLICY.

When the honor of the nation is involved it is not the time to split hairs about mistakes of individuals. Minister Egan may have been entirely wrong in conduct towards the insurgent forces in Chile, who, by the fortune of war, were successively insurgents, revolutionists and successful patriots. His acts are now behind us. The little South American republic which boasts of never having been whipped has grossly outraged the United States by assaulting and killing her naval servants to which outrage is added the insult of refusal to even apologize.

Other affronts of grievous character are of record in the archives of this country. Claims of American citizens for destruction of property by the Chileans, forty years ago, are still unsettled. The wanton confiscation of the property of American citizens of so recent date as the war between Chile and Peru, are not only not settled, but Chile absolutely refuses to call a convention to consider the claims. This, too, when it is notorious that similar claims made in behalf of their citizens by Great Britain, Germany, France, and even Sweden, have been adjusted and paid.

The Egan episode only gave the insulting republic opportunity to further insult the United States. Evidently the quarrelsome Chileans desire a row, and in the flush of former successes, they really believe they can, single-handed, whip Uncle Sam.

This is the situation which, through the administration, confronts the American people. The honor of the republic must be maintained and the protection of the life and property of American citizens must be guaranteed.

There will be no politics in this question to divide our people. The loyal south will vie with the valorous north in sustaining the government in establishing such a vigorous policy as will command the submission of Chile to the arbitrament of successful warfare. If war must come let the blow be swift and strong. Utilize every expedient to the end that victory shall be sweeping and lasting.

Speaking for the great body of democrats of Ohio the Bee assures the administration of the earnest and energetic support of all democrats when war shall be fully determined upon. Old Glory will inspire men to responsive duty and men, arms and money will be forthcoming at the call of the country.

AMERICAN LOYALTY.

It is the glory and the hope of the Union, that, strive as we may among ourselves, when there is a call for patriotism to mainfest itself it is always in sight and hearing. There is no partisanship in the assurance given the administration that if it is indeed true that Chile needs chastising, the people are with him, ready for business. We are partisans on occasion but patriots first, last and all the time. The tone of the democratic press is assuring. There is no Blaine or Harrison in it. It 's the ring of the true metal.

INTERESTING FIGURES.

Wells, Fargo & Co. have issued their annual report of precious metals for the year '91 in the states and territories west of the Missouri (including British Columbia), from which some interesting items may be gathered: Gold, in the aggregate amounted to $31,975,994; silver, $60,614,004; copper, $13,261,663; lead, $12,385,780. Total gross result, $118,237,441. The commercial value at which each of the metals is rated, is: silver 98 cents per ounce; copper 11 cents per pound, and lead $4 30 per hundred. These estimates are declared to be approximately correct. No bullion or coin was received by this company from the west coast of Mexico during 1891. A table showing the product for every year of the last two decades may be glanced at with interest. From $33,750,000 in 1870 ,the increase was gradual to 1877, which gives the highest figures of any—$44,880,223. Then the decline is gradual, with some fluctuations, to the year '91, for which $31,685,118 is recorded. To Japan, China and other countries, there were exported from London, $33,437,075; from San Francisco, $7,912,370, the total being nearly $7,000,000 less than last year's export. The United States of Mexico produced, within the same year: $472,484,000, gold; $458,645,000, silver. The report concludes with the following summary:

Colonial Epoch—From 1537 to 1821, $2,151,581,960; Independence—from 1822 to 1873, $809,655,251; Republic—from 1873 to 1891, $443,881,197. Total, $3,395,118,408.

The returns from Mexico continue to show a steady forward movement, in full accord with the healthy progress of mineral developments and mining interests in the United States. This result is owing, in great measure, to the liberal and friendly policy of the federal government of Mexico, which has afforded enterprises of the kind every reasonable encouragement. The prospects for the future are also very bright."

On the announcement that there will be a Chicago edition of the Mail and Express during the time of the world's fair, the Kansas City Star comments as follows: "The Vanderbilt millions are sufficient to back the enterprise and there are plenty of Bible texts to run through the season. If Col. Shepard's ability were commensurate with his enthusiasm he would get out quite a paper." By the way, the Colonel-Editor should wait till the Sunday question is settled before he decides to issue a paper in the wicked city. Because if that predicted brimstone fire of his should come down the Mail and Express would go up in smoke just the same as the naughty papers without any texts in them.

Madame Potter Palmer has communicated with Madame Carnot, wife of the president of the French republic, asking her to solicit the appointment of a committee of French women to work up a woman's exhibit to the Chicago exposition. Deputy Berger replies that the enthusiasm regarding exhibits of miscellaneous articles is not great, as there is no advantage to be gained for the trouble and expense. "Silks and wines" he says "there is always market for; these we shall exhibit." More credit for the new tariff law.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "If the tricky bachelor senator from New York imagines he has knocked out the father of a family in the first round, he will learn his mistake during the coming June. No old bachelor will ever be again invited to occupy the white house." Should this publication meet the eye of Senator David B. Hill, as it may in a good democratic newspaper like the Bee, he will take due warning, and avail himself of the opportunity afforded by a year divisable by four.

The eccentricities of the present ruler of Germany are thus accounted for by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch: The absurd attempt of the German emperor to make his people moral by act of parliament seems to be the measure of that monarch's political sense. William is growing more and more mediaeval. He understands all other times better than his own.

Of the effort to get Cornelius Vanderbilt to take the presidency of the Grant Monument Fund association, the Springfield Republican says: "It is one thing to get the New York millionaires on the official list of the association and quite another to get them on the subscription list."

The Russian legation in Washington, in donating their salaries to the relief of the famine-stricken districts at home, have done a graceful and proper thing. It looks so, on this side the water, but how the "little father" may regard it is another matter.

The Chicago Press deplores the publication of the fact that the Vatican at Rome has 4,000 rooms, feeling sure some one will now rush over and buy it and bring it to Chicago to use for a hotel during the fair.

The Philadelphia Times consoles the New York Grant Monument association by reminding its members that one of the Egyptian pyramids is certainly over four thousand years old, and not yet finished.

The atmosphere of Chicago must be something fearfully and wonderfully made when the Mail finds it necessary to say that if it gets any worse "it ought to be taken in capsules."

Senator Quay advances the proposition that three Mexican states be bought. Can the time have come when Quayism can no longer buy states already in the union?

Would Better Have Done The Fair Thing.

The republicans of New York state are at present inclined to wish they had done the fair thing a year ago. It was then proposed by the democrats to have an enumeration of voters made in the state, chiefly by republican officials, with a view to an apportionment of the state, which a republican senate could keep from being an unfair one. This plan was voted down by the republicans. Now the census will be taken by a legislature democratic in both branches. It is hoped that it will be made without gerrymandering, but the republicans cannot expect so fair an apportionment as was offered them a year ago, and which, in their unscrupulous partisanship they then rejected.—Boston Herald.

Bring Out the Truth, at Any Cost.

It appears that a great panic has been created among the distinguished statesmen at Washington by an innocent senatorial resolution inquiring into the ownership of the Nicaragua canal stock and bonds. Rumors are current at the capital that the zeal with which certain lofty personages urge that the United States government should guarantee the bonds of this company and thus control the canal is less due to devotion to the Monroe doctrine than to the fact that their pockets are well lined with the company's securities. The resolution of inquiry should be pushed.—Chicago Times.

To What They Can "Point With Pride."

A bankrupt treasury, years of privation and low wages, increased prices of the necessaries of life, are some of the achievements to which the republican party can point in its canvass during the coming summer. They will have warm work trying to show the people the good of these things.—Nashville Herald.

But They're Not, You See.

If the two national conventions were to be held at this time there is no doubt that the two champions would not be Harrison and Cleveland, but Blaine and Hill.—Pittsburg Press.

Foster and Free Silver.

Secretary Foster is a practical believer in free silver. He makes very free with that in the treasury when cooking his monthly statements.—Philadelphia Times.

The Iowa Idea.

The idea of the Iowa democrats seems to be to allow Mr. Hill one of the shells, Mr. Cleveland the other, and to give Mr. Boies the oyster.—Boston Herald.

The Ohio Banks.

The Ohio river is out of its banks. So, too, is most of the money deposited by John Sherman prior to his senatorial campaign.—Chicago Times.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

It is not at all improbable that Lady Henry Somerset will determine upon residing in this country permanently.

It is rather startling to learn that Chiswick house, where Fox and Canning died, is soon to be converted into a lunatic asylum.

A report comes from Biarritz that Mr. Gladstone will fling up active political life and spend his time on literary work.

George Eliot, Ralph Waldo Emerson and Thomas Carlyle agreed on the merits of at least one thing, the "Confessions of Jean Jacques Rousseau."

Mrs. Virginia Thompson, a daughter of Alexander Campbell, who founded the "Campbellite" sect, has been postmistress of Louisville under five administrations.

The life insurance carried by John Wanamaker amounts to $1,000,000, which is distributed in 29 different companies. The premiums on these policies amount to $60,000 a year.

Considering the dislike the entire south has for the author Cable, it is interesting to read in a Richmond paper that, "despite his personal unpopularity, we must own that no American novelist since the war has equalled him in fiction."

Miss Kate Furbish, Maine's botanist, has traveled thousands of miles over that state in connection with her "Flora of Maine." She generally travels alone, carries no weapons, and says she has not in her twenty years' experience encountered "anything to be afraid of."

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts has not only been conspicuous for setting the fashion among her countrywomen against the use of birds and bird plumage for the adornment of millinery, etc., but she has successfully promoted the manufacture of artificial birds for the purpose, a new industry that gives employment to several hundred girls and women in Paris.

Longfellow's eldest daughter, the "grave Alice," and her uncle, the poet's brother, occupy the fine old homestead in Cambridge, Mass. On either side of the house are the two pretty cottages of the poet's married daughters, Mrs. Dana (born Edith Longfellow) and Mrs. Thorpe, who was Miss Annie Longfellow.

That Toledo contains several would-be soldiers who are aching for an opportunity to try their aim on a Chilean.

That the proposition to send a committee to Washington to aid in securing a channel appropriation is received with favor by all.

That the good citizens of Toledo can begin to figure on shelling out $5, as the ladies will soon be around with tickets for the charity ball.

That Auditor Walker is working off the improvement bonds, but not in the business-like style in which he desires to handle the valuable documents.

That Mr. Will Carrington will divide his time between Toledo and Chicago during the present year, having large business interests in both cities.

That the committee which has been appointed to visit Washington are preparing a bundle of statistics which will serve to demonstrate the importance of the Toledo harbor.

That citizens generally do not speak in the most favorable terms of the last plan of the gas trustees to issue bonds. Toledo has not been very fortunate in selling bonds lately.

That some of those good citizens who believed that rock-pressure in wells would never decrease are receiving information in manifestos from the gas trustees which they did not expect. Even the gas trustees now admit the pressure does fall off. Time develops a great many things.

SAY, STREET COMMISSIONER,

Will You Put in an Appearance for a Little While, Anyway?

The incipient snow war on St. Clair street between Jefferson and Madison continued yesterday afternoon between the street car companies and the business men on the street. The great heaps of muddy snow were piled up along the sidewalks by the street car snow plow. This was not very agreeable to the people doing business along the street, and Mr. Joe Popp had his men in the livery stable shovel the snow back on the street. This they did, and the consequence was a street car blockade for over an hour. There are other places on the down town streets where the heavy snow is a nuisance, and people are beginning to wonder where the street commissioner is. The city is supposed to pay for such an officer in order that the streets may be kept in a passable condition, and it is just as much his business to take care of the snow as of the mud.

Nothing has been seen of Bower or his men since the freeze up, except as they are campaigning for the re-election of Bewer.

LOUISIANA REPUBLICANS.

They Endorse Harrison and Denounce Democrats.

New Orleans, Jan. 20.—The republican convention did not meet until afternoon yesterday.

The platform pledges unswerving devotion to republican principles, favors an honest ballot and a free count, declares the enforcement of the Fifteenth amendment essential to the maintenance of the government, denounces the democratic government in this state, protests against political intimidation and murder, favors liberal pension appropriations for the schools, endorses the levee system of Louisiana, and endorses Harrison's administration and commends him for renomination and places itself in uncompromising opposition to the lottery.

INSURANCE RATES GO UP.

Will Toledo Get a Dose of the Medicine?

In view of the unusual drain to which the insurance companies have been subjected of late a general advance in rates is generally expected. The board of fire underwriters at Cleveland and Cincinnati have already taken action, and the movement will doubtless reach Toledo. At Cincinnati it has been decided that on all mercantile risks of more than $30,000 the rates will henceforth be advanced 20 per cent. on the present ones. On all building risks of more than $10,000 the rates will likewise be greater by 20 per cent. than formerly. Together with this increase in his premium the assured will also be under a new obligation in his insurance contracts. He will be required, in the first case mentioned, to maintain insurance on his property to the extent of 80 per cent. of its value; and, in the second case, he will be obliged to carry policies to an amount of 75 per cent. of the value.

FOUND THE CASH.

Four Thousand Dollars Buried Where a Man Had Been Lynched.

Indianapolis, Jan. 20.—Considerable excitement has been occasioned near Bedford, this state, by the finding of $4,000 in greenbacks at the roots of a tree in which Stephen Clark was hanged by a mob several years ago.

It was supposed that Clark had hidden large sums of money and the boys in the neighborhood have from time to time been searching for it. Sunday night Clark's widow was awakened by the light of a lantern under a tree in her yard and discovered some boys at work with a pick.

They dug about two feet in the ground, and secured broken pieces of a wooden box. Continuing their labors, they dug out an old coat and after unrolling it found a revolver, some counterfeiting molds and $4,000 in greenbacks.

HOTEL INDUSTRY WANTED

For Other Purposes, and a New Home Must Be Secured.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Aid association was held at Hotel Industry yesterday afternoon. Besides the ladies interested there were present Revs. Chas. Scadding, Dr. McGaw, W. H. Sloan and Dr. Williams. The reports of the various officers showed the association in excellent condition financially and otherwise. It was brought up during the meeting that the owner of the property, Mr. Shoemaker, was not willing to renew the lease, as he desired the property for other purposes.

Inasmuch as the work has been successful thus far it was decided that new quarters should be secured and the association and the home continued.

A committee was appointed to confer with the Young Woman's Christian association and learn if that organization would unite with the W. A. A. in the maintenance of a new home. Another meeting will be held Monday, February 1, to decide what changes shall be made.

THE CZARINA IS ILL.

Wiesbaden, Jan. 20.—Dr. Metzger has been summoned to St. Petersburg for consultation in regard to the condition of the czarina.

Their Readability.

A judicious critic remarks: "The frequent publication of any man's sermons by a daily newspaper is not by any means proof of their spirituality." Indeed it is not. The arrangement for their publication is frequently made by an utterly worldly managing editor, and they are set up by mercenary printers, under the direction of a foreman whose heart knows not a touch of grace. Sermons are selected not on account of their spirituality, but their readability.—Kansas City Star.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE MAN WITH A PLAN.

He Was Little, but His Scheme Was a Great One.

There were five of us in the stage, and a sixth man had a seat with the driver. There was a second lieutenant of cavalry, a civil engineer, and the rest of us were only common folks who had been out in the hills prospecting and were returning broken in hopes and "busted" in pocket. The engineer was a little man of feminine appearance, and we hadn't been together an hour when he confessed that the bare thoughts of the stage being held up made him tremble all over. The officer was a quiet sort of chap, who seemed to have plenty of nerve, and though none of us had much to lose, we by and by agreed that in case the stage was stopped we would make a fight for it. All were new to a hold-up, but we decided that if we had any show at all we could make it hot for the road agents.

The little man at first agreed with our plan as formed, but later on he broached one of his own. The driver told us that the point most likely to be selected by the highwaymen would be a rough spot in the road, just before it reached a certain hill, and we were about five miles from the spot, and darkness had fully descended when the little man unfolded his plan. When within a mile of the spot he was to get out and follow the stage on foot. In case it was stopped he would be in position to sight the robbers and open fire at once.

We jumped on him at once for a flunk. It was simply a scheme on his part to bolt and save his dollars in case the agents appeared, and each one gave him his opinion of such conduct in very vigorous English. In his soft, gentle way he replied:

"Gentlemen, you do me injustice. Please suspend judgment until you see how my plan works. I do assure you that I firmly expect to kill a robber and save the stage."

We were too disgusted to argue with him, and when he finally got out in accordance with his plan, the army officer was fain to make a kick at him. We couldn't tell whether he had bolted back down the road or was following on, but we all got ready for a hold-up. Every one of us had a revolver in hand, and every one was on the watch, and yet it came about before we knew it. The horses were still at a walk when a man appeared at either door of the stage and covered us. At the same moment a third stopped the leaders and covered the driver and passenger with a shotgun. It was simply a dead cinch on us, and we were not over ten seconds realizing it. We had just got the order to hand up our guns and step out when there was a pop! pop! pop! from outside. The brigand at the right hand window cried out and fell; the one at the left hand window disappeared without a sound. There were three shots more from the front of the stage, and half a minute later, and before any of us had moved, we heard the little man saying:

"Gentleman, it's all over and you can come out!"

What had happened? There was a dead man on one side of the coach, and a seriously wounded man on the other, and the third brigand had been driven away, probably hit by at least one bullet. All this had been done by the little man and his little gun, according to his plan, and what made it the worse for us he didn't appear to have done anything to feel proud over. We tried to square ourselves with him, but it couldn't be done. While he seemed to forgive us, we realized what his real private opinion of five such chumps must be, and we got away from him at the first stop.

A FIRM IN TROUBLE.

Cincinnati, Jan. 20.—Mr. Leo Frank, who is in charge of the H. B. Claflin company's affairs in this city, states this morning that two arrests on criminal charges will be made in the Weatherby dry goods matter.

There will also be instituted, he says, civil suits against Mr. Levi E. Stevens for the recovery of amounts upwards of $100,000, as he is surety for the Weatherby concern.

FRANCE AT THE FAIR.

Paris, Jan. 20.—At a cabinet council today the amount for the representation of each ministerial department at the Columbian exposition was fixed.

The bill asking for the credits to carry out the plans of the ministry will soon be laid before the chamber of deputies.

Don't Suffer—Catarrh Can be Cured

It commences with a cold in the head, soreness of the throat, hacking cough, hawking and spitting in the morning, raising lumps of matter which form in the throat, the nose passages stopped up, and difficulty of breathing, pain above and between the eyes. Catarrh also causes a very offensive smell, which the sufferers would not be aware of, but which is very disagreeable to those associating with them.

I want my remedies to reach everyone, both rich and poor. One box will cure any case. It makes no difference how long you have had catarrh.

READ THIS FROM MR. KINGSLEY.

Dear Sir—Yours received. My catarrh is better than for years before, though not cured. Had hoped to see you again soon, that I might get one box more, as mine is all gone. Feel sure that it would eventually cure me. Wishing you success, I am,

Respectfully yours,

In May, June and July the weather on the Neva is as hot as it is in summer time in Queensland, and the chief delights of the people whose official duties detain them in the capital is to be rowed about the Neva in the soft and mellow gloaming and to experience the pleasurable sensation of being able to read the newspaper without the aid of artificial light at 11 p. m.

A late census of the city of Lima, Peru, shows it to have a population of 103,956, of which 49,350 are males and 54,106 are females; 70,961 of the inhabitants can read and 32,995 can neither read nor write. A singular reversal of the relative proportion in numbers of the sexes is shown by comparison with previous enumerations. In 1866 the census showed the city to have 4,422 more males than females, while the present census shows that the females outnumber the males by 4,756.

Owen Meredith's (Lord Lytton's) coffin was borne to the grave without a blossom to decorate its pall, according to the direction of Lady Lytton, who said that her husband had requested that not so much "as the tiniest violet or the smallest rosebud" should be used about his bier. "What, in heaven's name have poor flowers done to be condemned to serve such a horrid purpose as being consigned to vaults and graves? I like a sad-looking funeral," was a frequent saying of the poet; and his funeral ceremony was indeed a gloomy one.

The Island of Madagascar has two distinct climates, two classes of natives and two classes of fauna and flora. The island is about the size of France. Along the coast it is tropical and malarious, and the natives are darker and larger than in the interior. The interior is a high table land and mountainous. There the climate is cooler and the natives smaller and lighter in color than on the coast. But in the interior they are more intelligent and they rule the island.

The king of Siam is said to have in one of his country places a wonderful pavilion. It was built by a Chinese engineer, and the walls, ceilings and floors are formed of pieces of plate glass an inch thick. They are so perfectly fitted together with a transparent cement that the joints are invisible, and no fluid can penetrate. The pavilion is 28 feet long, 17 wide, and stands in the middle of a huge basin made of beautifully colored marbles. When the king enters the pavilion the single door is closed and cemented. Then the sluice gates are opened and the basin is filled with water. Higher and higher it rises until the pavilion is covered, and only the ventilators connect it with the open air.

MR. ROMEIS, STAND UP!

The Silver Haired Statesman Has a Few Words

On the Ex-Congressman's Affidavits as to the Former's Alleged Pledges — That Middle Bass Story Also Treated.

The late contest in the republican ranks for United States senator has developed a state of things among the local statesmen which will return to plague all the participants, and which will be a fruitful source of happiness for democrats for some time to come.

Of course, no objection will follow on the part of democrats, and being lovers of fair play, they will hope that all the facts may be brought out, and the more the merrier.

It will be remembered that ex-Congressman Romeis submitted a lengthy affidavit as to his ante-nomination conversations and agreement with Hon. C. A. Flickinger, and in which many things derogatory to the latter were stated. Mr. Flickinger appears not to have run across the affidavit in the excitement incident to the senatorial scrimmage, and on his attention being called to it, to say he was rather wrathy is to express the situation very mildly.

A Bee caught Mr. Flickinger on his way to Columbus, and acquainted him with the substance of Mr. Romeis' affidavit.

"Well," said Mr. Flickinger, "perhaps it would be best, while Mr. Romeis is in the affidavit business, for him to tell what he said about Mr. Squire to me, that when Romeis was running for congress the last time, Squire came to his house the night before election and took the last dollar he had in the house, and Romeis was satisfied that Squire worked against him."

Mr. Flickinger continued:

"Passing over this matter, it is true I had several conversations with Mr. Romeis as to my nomination for the house. In one of them I asked him who his man was for United States senator. He said: 'I am opposed to Foraker and his rotten gang, because he was no friend of the Germans and had done everything in Cincinnati against personal liberty, and would just as soon have a man vote for Sherman as Foraker. I am a Foster man.'"

As to Romeis' further statement in the affidavit, "Flickinger agreed at the German meeting to vote for Mr. Foraker," Mr. Flickinger replied:

"I am very much surprised that Romeis said that, as all who were present know that I never agreed at that meeting to vote for any particular candidate, and I ask the men who were there to be the jury. They were good substantial Germans who can tell the truth, unlike Mr. Romeis, without attaching an affidavit."

"What did you say as to Mr. Sherman to Mr. Romeis?"

"I told Romeis that Sherman was no special friend of mine; that he had never done anything for me, but I did not promise to vote against him or for any other particular candidate. This statement you may make clear: At no time and under no circumstances did I say that I would vote against John Sherman and for J. B. Foraker, notwithstanding what has been said to the contrary."

"How about this Middle Bass story, where you are alleged to have pledged yourself to Gov. Foraker?"

"There is nothing in it either. The only foundation for it is in the fact that I went to Middle Bass to see Gov. Foster on private business. Foraker was there. He said he wanted a conversation with me before I left. We met on the green after dinner. I told him I was a candidate for the legislature and would be nominated.

"'Do you believe so?' said Foraker.

"I know it, said I, and I cannot understand why your friends are fighting me. Said he:

"'I will see about that, and will write my friends there.'

"I distinctly told him I would not pledge myself to any candidate for the United States senate. Foraker did write, I believe, and did meet his friends at the depot in Toledo when he returned, and as a result his friends in Toledo fought my nomination, and some of them continued the fight against me up to the night of the election.

"I may also state that I called on John Kumler before going to Middle Bass, and as a friend solicited his support. He said to me:

"'Flick, how do you stand on the senatorial question?'

"I replied I did not think it was right for any man to promise his vote to any one—that it would be injurious to the ticket. To this he said:

"'If I were you I would come out courageously and tell the people just where I stand.'

"My response to this was that I would not do that, and this same conversation I repeated to Gov. Foraker."

Mr. Flickinger in closing said:

"In this senatorial election I have endeavored to represent what I believed to be the sentiments of the people of Lucas county. That I have done this, I have not the slightest doubt, and with the result am entirely satisfied."

INFERIOR GOODS.

The only safe way for purchasers is to insist on having the genuine article, and not allow themselves to be swindled by having plasters said to be 'just as good," or "containing superior ingredients," imposed upon them. These are only tricks to sell inferior goods that no more compare with Allcock's Porous Plasters than copper does with gold. One trial of Allcock's Porous Plasters will convince the most skeptical of their merits.

The eminent Henry A. Mott, jr., Ph.D., F. C. S., late government chemist, certifies

"My investigation of Allcock's Porous Plasters shows it to contain valuable and essential ingredients not found in any other plaster, and I find it superior to and more efficient than any other plaster."

Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

FRANCE WILL OBJECT.

Paris, Jan. 20—The Republique Francaise, in a stirring article on the situation of affairs in Morocco, says that France would oppose, with all her strength, a British occupation of Morocco, which, it says, would be a last humiliation for Europe. In conclusion, the Republique Francaise says that "if the British bluejackets want to sleep in Tangier, they shall have bed-fellows."

TORTURING ECZEMA.

Editor Iowa Plain Dealer Cured of Insufferable Itching and Pain by the Cuticura Remedies.

No Less Than Five Physicians Consulted. Their Combined Wisdom Followed Without Benefit.

I am sixty-six years old. In August, 1889, was troubled with the peculiar skin disease to which people of my age are subject, known among medical men as eczema. Its first appearance was near the ankles. It rapidly extended over the lower extremities until my legs were nearly one raw sore; from legs the trouble extended across the hips, shoulders and the entire length of the arms, the legs and arms greatly swollen with an itching, burning pain, without cessation. Although the best medical advice attainable was employed, no less than five physicians of the place being consulted and the prescriptions being the result of their combined wisdom, the disease, though apparently checked, would recur in a few days as bad as ever; during its progress my weight fell away about twenty-five pounds. As an experiment I began the use of CUTICURA, following the simple and plain instructions given with the REMEDIES, and in four weeks found myself well, with skin soft and natural in color, the itching and pain entirely relieved. W. R. MEAD,
Editor Iowa Plain Dealer, Cresco, Ia.

A DAY ON THE SNOW.

Billy Wilson Pushes a Sidewheeler to the Front.

Al Baldwin's Little Tony Wins the First of the Series and Is Barred From To-Days's Contest.

It was a great day for sleighing and speeding yesterday, and the many owners of fine and fast horses made much of the opportunity. So great was the turnout of fine horses that the expression was common: "why is it, with all these fine horses in Toledo, the city is so far behind the times and has no mile racing track?"

And right here it can be stated that the snow meeting of Toledo horsemen will bear good results, one of which will probably be that a move will be made to enter the racing circuits, which move would be followed by the building of a mile track.

Yesterday's race was the first of three to be given on Madison street.

George H. Ketcham was out with Magnoma, Charley Friel was there, Joe Potter behind Bessie Wilkes, Dr. McBain had a flyer, Billy Morehouse's beautiful turnout put in an appearance, and, in fact, everybody who had a rig or could rent one joined in the sport.

Before the race proper many little spurts were had, and much amusement was caused for tthe thousand people who lined the curbs on both sides of the street.

The event of the day was a race for a blanket presented by George H. Ketcham. Jeff Wheeler was starter and J. Frank Zahm and J. W. Boos officiated as judges.

The entries were: Al Baldwin's Little Tony, driven by Billy Wilson; 'Tine Ketcham's Willard M., driven by Al Baldwin; Bob Ingersoll, driven by Ed Jackson; Minnehaha, driven by Gus Rasor, Miss Brown and McLyman's bay.

Willard M and Little Tony were handicapped by being started behind the other four. It was a pretty sight when the word was given to "go." All the horses swept down the street like a whirlwind, and a long procession of cutters fell in on the trail.

Billy Wilson pushed Little Tony through the bunch and to the front with Willard M close behind him. Billy Wilson made a splendid race for the wire, and won the first heat with Willard second and the other horses as follows: Bob Ingersoll, Minnehaha, Miss Brown, McLyman's bay.

In the second heat Little Tony got a bad start and Willard M made him throw snow-balls before the stretch was covered. At Nineteenth street 'Tine Ketcham's horse looked a winner, but again did Billy urge Baldwin's clever little side-wheeler to the front and he took the race, the others coming in as follows: Willard M, Miss Brown, Bob Ingersoll, Minnehaha, McLyman's bay.

Mr. Spitzer drove up and presented the blanket to Billy Wilson and last night he was the proudest man on Summit street.

Little Tony will be barred to-day and Willard M seems to be considered the tip.

THE WESTERN LEAGUE.

Toledo the Only City About which There Is Any Uncertainty.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Before the sun sets to-morrow night the Western league of professional base ball players will have been organized.

A meeting to elect officers and finally perfect the league will be held at the auditorium to-morrow. It will be made up of Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul and Minneapolis in the west, and Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Columbus and Toledo in the east.

Every town is regarded certain except Toledo, and several cities are anxious to take its place.

J. W. Speas, of Kansas City, is slated for president, and Jimmie Williams, of Columbus, for secretary.

Cocking Main.

Upper Sandusky, Jan. 20.—(Special)—Upper Sandusky and Delaware sports indulged in a great cock fight last night two miles this side of Marion. Thirteen battles were fought, Delaware winning four and upper Sandusky the rest.

Sportsmen from all parts of the state were present and the fight lasted all night. Several thousand dollars changed hands.

YACHT RACERS.

The Lake and Straits Association Formed.

Toledo was represented at the yacht meeting in Detroit yesterday by Commodore Geo. W. Bills, Charles L. Curtis, Frank Lee and Henry Tracy, Ohio Yacht club; Commodore L. Mathias and Joseph W. Hepburn, Toledo Yacht club. Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit were also represented and Commodore Bills presided.

After much discussion the name chosen was "The Lake and Straits Yachting Association." The annual dues are $25 and the managing board will decide upon the place of holding the annual meets. There will be no entrance fee to races and clubs of 15 members and three yachts of 16 feet water line are eligible to membership. Each club is to appoint three delegates and send their names to Commodore Bills, who is to call the next meeting.

Record Breakers.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Three riders broke the world's best two-day record in a six-day bicycle race last night. The best previous record was 260 3-4 miles made at Boston last December. At the close of yesterday's racing Ashinger had covered 261 miles, 8 laps; Stage, 261 miles, 8 laps, and Lamb, 261 miles. Wood, Schock, O'Flanagan and Robb are now practically out of the race.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Terrible Accident to a Sleighing Party.

A Wabash Train Crashes Into a Party of Merry Makers—Eight Killed and Many Injured.

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—A little before 8 o'clock last evening a party of 22 started out for an evening of enjoyment of the sleighing furnished by the recent heavy fall of snow.

Of these eight are now in the morgue, and nearly all of the rest are in the hospital.

The party was made up of members of the Clover Leaf Fishing club, a social organization of white waiters in some of the leading restaurants.

They were all in one conveyance, a large four-horse sleigh. Starting out about 7:45 p. m., after an evening's drive they went to the Delmonico, a roadhouse near Forest park. Partaking of a lunch the party reassembled at 10:30 for the return home. The drive was commenced with gaiety, but 15 minutes later, at the Sarah street crossing of the Wabash railroad, the accident occurred.

A special train, chartered by a local Legion of Honor lodge, was returning from an evening spent at Ferguson, 13 miles out. The train, in charge of Engineer Blanchfield, Fireman Murphy and Conductor Robert Dalton, was moving some 25 miles an hour, tender first.

Owing to this last fact, the engineer did not see the sleighing party until fairly upon them. The tender struck between the pole horses and the sleigh, killing two of the horses and throwing the occupants of the sleigh in every direction. So great was the shock that two of the injured were afterward found on top of the cab.

The train was stopped within 30 yards of the crossing and returned to the scene, where the Legion of Honor excursionists aided in gathering up the dead and wounded. By this time the mounted police of the district were on hand, and, taking charge, they ordered the dead and wounded placed upon the train. This was done and all taken to the union depot whence the wounded were taken to St. Mary's infirmary and the dead to the morgue.

The dead number eight. But five of their names are known: Frederick Neubert, Gus Neubert, Will Krone, J. Schaetle, E. Von Behren. The remaining three are awaiting identification. Andrew Stephenson, colored, driver of the team, is missing. At this hour it is believed that at least four of the wounded will die, but their condition is now so serious as to preclude measures of identification before the surgeons are through with them.

BIG SLAUGHTER HOUSE.

St. Louis Will Enter the Field to Compete With the World.

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—The ground for a monster slaughter house and packing house in East St. Louis has just been bought from the National Stock Yards association by Kingan & Co., the European-American pork dealers, who have branches in New York, Indianapolis, Cedar Rapids and Kansas City and four in Europe.

A report has reached Bradstreet's and Dun's agencies that a $1,000,000 building will be erected. The company intends to use the new quarters as a hog killing station for the shipment of pork to the east.

SUFFOCATED WITH SMOKE.

New York, Jan. 20.—Ellen Hogan, aged 53, was suffocated by the smoke from a small fire which occurred in the cellar of their dwelling, No. 2777 Third avenue.

Her daughter, Nellie, aged 13, was rendered unconscious, but was resuscitated at the hospital.

THE ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Toledo Humane Society Was Held

Last Evening—Interesting Report of Work Done—President Brown's Recommendation—Elections.

Last evening the annual meeting of the Toledo Humane society was held, President James M. Brown presiding, and Secretary Richardson wielding the pencil.

Previous to this meeting the regular monthly reports were heard. In the absence of Agent France, his report was read by Secretary Richardson, showing the number of cases for the month of December to have been 48; number of children receiving attention during the same month 84.

Mrs. R. G. Bacon related the details of some affecting cases coming to her attention during the month, as chairman of the children's committee.

One of these was of a wife deserted by her husband last fall, he taking away with him all the little earnings they had saved, but leaving her their five little children. She struggled along, as only a good mother can and will, and the two oldest children, boys who should be at school, helped her all they could, one working in a book-bindery and one in a printing office, their joint earnings $5 a week. On December 30 the mother lay dying. The father's whereabouts had been learned, and he was telegraphed for. He reached home on the night of December 31, to look upon the dead body of the wife he had abused, wronged and deserted, and to see lying by her their day-old child. The man is a good mechanic when he keeps sober, and the Humane society proposes he shall now provide for these motherless children or be locked up.

The report of the annual meeting held in January, 1891, was read, after which Postmaster Brown delivered his annual address.

It was his judgment, based upon the work of the society for the year, that cruelty to animals is decreasing, and cruelty to children is increasing. This is a startling commentary upon the closing year of the nineteenth century, but is borne out by the facts. One reason is that society is becoming more complicated, as our city population is made up of all classes, all races, all nationalities, and evil conditions are increasing.

He advocates the employment of the criminals in every prison in the state, and that their earnings be applied to the support of their families. The families of criminals suffer poverty, extreme destitution, disgrace. The disgrace cannot be avoided. The extreme of poverty and the application to the public for its relief would be obviated if the earnings of the husband in prison went to the support of wife and children.

The society has been the instrument in securing some good laws, but had failed to secure legislation on this one point. He hoped it might be secured this winter, by the aid of our representatives in the legislature. Criminals should be furnished with work, made to work and paid for it, and that money should be religiously devoted to their families.

Summary of Last Year's Work.

In the cases of children or families: Complaints received and cases investigated, 593; parties convicted of cruelty to children alone, 29; of cruelty to wife and family, 102; cases remedied without prosecution, 241; number of children involved, 881; children sent to charitable institutions, 44; placed in homes, 19; rescued from improper surroundings, 11; children deserted by fathers, 45; children returned to parents, 19.

In the cases of animals: Complaints received and investigated, 294; parties convicted of cruelty to animals, 46; cases remedied without prosecution, 98; horses unfit for work laid up, 41; animals killed to relieve suffering, 81; overloaded horses relieved, 38.

Mrs. Bacon's Annual Report.

Children placed in home at Xenia, 2 boys; now at Children's home, admitted to Xenia, 3 boys, 2 girls; placed in private homes, 2 boys; taken to Delaware, 6 girls; to the house of Good Shepherd in Detroit, 2 girls; total homes found for children, 17. Pensions procured for 6 widows and 12 children of deceased soldiers; pension claims pending, 50. Visits made during the year where children were involved, 500; number of letters written, 202.

The Children's Home.

Mrs. A. B. Cole reported visiting the Children's home, in company with the other ladies of the advisory committee. Juvenile books and papers and magazines suitable for the children to read are very much needed at the home, and would be eagerly welcomed by the little folks.

Election of Officers.

On motion of Mr. Richardson a committee of three was appointed to select names for candidates to be voted for at the next meeting of the society for its directors and vice presidents. The president appointed Mrs. R. G. Bacon and Misses Bond and Buck such committee.

The following officers were elected by acclamation: President, James M. Brown; treasurer, T. J. Brown; secretary, L. G. Richardson.

Invitation from the Workhouse Board.

Secretary Richardson stated he was in receipt of a communication from the workhouse board inviting the officers of the Humane society to attend the next meeting of that body and state their grievances against the board. For one, Mr. Richardson said, he was quite ready to go. He was tired of going to police court and prosecuting men for abusing their families, and having them sent to the workhouse, only to be released the next day, and generally having to go over the same case again by the second week.

Secretary Richardson stated that since the last meeting Miss Cannie Mott and Mrs. S. H. Morgan had made the requisite payment constituting life membership in the society.

Adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening, February 2, when the committee on directors and vice presidents will report.

THREE BLACK BRUTES.

An Awful Crime Committed in the Heart of Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 20.—Laura Bennett, a young girl, was held up on Pearl street in broad day light here this morning and brutally ravished by three negroes, John Bloomfield, Wm. Francis and Wallis Estes. The girl was returning home from school when the three seized her. Two of them held the girl while the other assaulted her until each had accomplished his fiendish purpose. The three men are under arrest.

TRANSFORMATION.

Through a chance fissure of the church-yard wall
A sweet-breathed vine thrusts out a vagrant spray
At whose slim end a snow-white blossom droops
Full to the dewy redness of a rose
That reaches up on tiptoe for the kiss.
Not them the wren disturbs, nor the blue-bee
That buzzes homeward with his load of sweets;
And thus they linger, flowery lip to lip,
Heedless of all, in rapturous mute embrace.
Some necromancy here! These two, I think,
Were once unhappy lovers upon earth.
—Thomas Bailey Aldrich in January Century.

Pleasures of Memory.

What a blessed thing is memory? How it brings up the pleasures of the past, and hides its unpleasantnesses! You recall your childhood days, do you not, and wish they would return? You remember the pleasant associations, while the unpleasant ones are forgotten. Perhaps to your mind comes the face of some friend. It was once a pale, sad face. It showed marks of pain, lines of care. It seemed to be looking into the hereafter, the unknown future. And then you recalled how it brightened, how it recovered its rosy hue, how it became a picture of happiness and joy. Do you remember these things? Many people do, and gladly tell how the health returned, how happiness came back, how the world seemed bright. They tell how they were once weak, nerveless, perhaps in pain, certainly unhappy. They tell of sleepless nights, restless days, untouched food, unstrung nerves. And then they tell how they became happy, healthy and strong once more. You have heard it often in the past, have you not? You have heard people describe how they were cured and kept in health? You certainly can remember what it is that has so helped people in America. If not, listen to what Mrs. Annie Jenness Miller, who is known universally as the great dress reformer, says: "Six years ago, when suffering from mental care and overwork, I received the most pronounced benefit from the use of that great medicine, Warner's Safe Cure." Ah, now you remember. Now you recall how many people you have heard say this same thing. Now you recollect how much you have heard of this great Cure. Now you are ready to admit that memory is usually pleasing, that the highest pleasure comes from perfect health, and that this great remedy has done more to produce and prolong health than any other discovery ever known in the entire history of the whole world.

WEARY MOTHERS

LOOK AT THIS.
Are these not healthy and bright children? Their appearance does not misrepresent them; they are both healthy and bright. They are the son and daughter of Mr. J. P. Wiley, of Dorchester, Mass., and he has an interesting story to tell in regard to them. The story is as follows:
"In 1885 my wife, accompanied by my little boy, at that time 11 months old, was visiting relatives in Scranton, Penna. The little fellow was suffering untold agony cutting his teeth. My wife was told to try Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion. The effect was magical. It did not stupefy the child, as most remedies of this character do; it simply soothed the pain of the burning and aching gums. I might write a volume, had I the time, praising this remedy, and then not express my feelings or do it justice, it is simply marvelous. After her return to Boston she wanted another bottle, but I found that it was unknown in this city. I corresponded with Dr. Hand, and received in reply a sample of each of his remedies. I used them on both my children, recommended them to all my friends, and have yet to find the person who, after using the remedies, especially Teething Lotion and Colic Cure, that could not praise them. People may say, and have said to me: 'Oh, there must be something in that Teething Lotion that affects a child's brain.' In reply to this, I will say I have two children, a boy and girl, who have been treated with Teething Lotion since time of beginning to end of teething, and I challenge any person to furnish two with any clearer brains. I cheerfully recommend them to parents who love their little ones."

THEY ARE OUT IN FORCE.

Cities Bidding for the Democratic Convention.

Chicago Will Make No Fight to Gain It.

Delegations Arriving in the National Capital and the Battle Commenced in Earnest.

Washington, Jan. 20.—A hundred Tammany braves have reached Washington to assist New York's contest for the national democratic convention. Two of New York's leaders, Jefferson M. Levy and Comptroller Myers reached the city last night. Mr. Myers says the New England and middle state committeemen are unanimous for New York and not a few of the southerners would, he believed, vote the same way.

The Indianapolis delegation reached the city over the Pennsylvania road. Mayor Sullivan and other prominent citizens are in the party. The delegates estimate that the city can comfortably lodge and feed 50,000 strangers.

Among the latest arrivals are the delegation from Kansas City, backed by quite a number of prominent citizens of St. Louis, that city having magnanimously resigned all claims to the convention.

There was a renewal of the rumors that Chicago would be in the contest and it is said that telegrams have been sent to prominent citizens there asking whether Chicago would give the same pledges as in 1884.

Congressman Cable who will act for the Illinois members, stated he would not commit himself to any city until he knew what Chicago intended to do.

Manager J. W. Scott, of the Herald, assured a Post reporter that Chicago had not the remotest idea of asking for the convention and in fact preferred it would go elsewhere.

The Detroit delegation has arrived. Thirty thousand dollars has already been pledged by the citizens and it will be a small task to raise the remainder of the $50,000 necessary to defray the expense of the convention.

A DAY TO REMINISCENCE.

The Days of Forty-Nine Talked Over.

Forty-Third Anniversary of the California Pioneers Held in Chicago Last Night.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The annual banquet of the Western Association of California Pioneers was held at the Grand Pacific hotel last evening.

It was the forty-third anniversary of the discovery of gold and it brought together an enthusiastic gathering of men and women who had endured and conquered all the hardships of pioneer life and whose names will always be connected with the unwritten history of the golden state.

It was essentially an aggregation of people who thoroughly understood each other, who came to have a good old fashioned visit and who had it in their peculiar style.

There were such women as Mrs. G. B. Lydston, who had ridden a cow over the boundary line and lived in Murphy's camp, so often referred to by Bret Harte, and men by the score who were full of reminiscences of adventures.

A Remarkable Case.—Mr. Walter Wheeler, of the Washington Mills, Lawrence, Mass. for two years afflicted with varicose veins, accompanied by a troublesome eruption, was completely cured after taking only eight bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

FATES WERE AGAINST HIM.

Terrible Affliction of a Missouri Man.

Twin Babies Born and Die, and Mother and Father Follow, All Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Spring Valley, Mo., Jan. 20.—A most peculiar and frightful quadruple accident occurred near this city Sunday.

Frank Ostrander, a farmer, had the misfortune to cut his leg while chopping. He was helped by friends to his home and bed.

That evening his wife, in delicate condition, went out to milk the cow and was kicked nearly to death by the vicious brute.

She managed to crawl to the house where without helping hands she gave birth to twins. Shortly afterward the twins died.

The burden of grief and pain was too great for the mother and she died an hour later.

The father, in a frenzy of grief, endeavored to rise from his bed and started his injured leg to bleeding.

Before he could reach the side of his dead wife and babes he bled to death.

INFLUENZA IN LONDON.

London, Jan. 20.—Influenza in this metropolis has reached the proportions of an epidemic which is rapidly spreading and increasing in virulence.

The total number of cases reported daily is going up by leaps and bounds and the advance in the death rate is becoming a cause of alarm.

Don't irritate your lungs with a stubborn cough, when a remedy, safe and certain as Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant can be so easily procured. Sore throats and lungs are helped speedily by it.

BAKER WILL RETIRE.

New York, Jan. 20.—A special to the World from Chicago says that President Baker of the local world's fair directory is about to be retired and that an effort is being made to have Mr. Gage again take the presidency.

WASHINGTON TO BE IN IT.

Washington, Jan. 20.—According to the statement of George Wagner, president of the Washington ball club, Washington is to have a high price team this season. "I will have a team," he said to-day, "which will cost $40,000 alone for salaries and with other necessary expenditures, the total amount will go over $50,000."

Lydia Thompson in a Novelty—Charles Dickson in "Ingog."

Lydia Thompson with a clever company presented something of a novelty at the Wheeler opera house last evening. Her program consisted of three short comedies. Miss Thompson became famous as a burlesque artiste but now she gives promise of doing even better work in higher comedy.

Charles Dickson.

When Ingog appears at the Wheeler opera house, Thursday evening, New York's pet light comedian Charles Dickson will make his first appearance in this city.

Still a very young man, he has attained the position to which he has arrived as the result of talent and unremitting labor. He began at the foot of the ladder when yet a mere boy as utility man in the Brooklyn Theater stock company, and after the disastrous fire which destroyed the house, joined Robinson & Crane's company, where his ability was recognized, and he became the leading man of the company. When Robinson & Crane parted company Dickson became a member of the famous Lyceum stock company, and during his stay with them established the reputation he now enjoys.

AS TO INSURANCE.

Another Side to That Given on Tuesday,

Or Rather An Explanation as to Collapses, Re-Insurance and Other Matters Connected With the Business.

To the Editor—Your review of the past year, from an insurance standpoint, contained in last evening's Bee, and based on statistics furnished by Gen. J. S. Kountz, is somewhat misleading and calls for a word of correction. It conveys the impression that all the companies mentioned as having retired from business have failed, gone down disastrously—or "gone up," as Gen. Kountz puts it—to the loss and discomfiture of policy-holders; whereas, a large number of these companies, recognizing the fact that unhealthy competition had brought about a condition of the business promising no future profit for underwriters, reinsured their outstanding risks and withdrew, thus retiring honorably and without loss to the insured, in many cases even with unimpaired capital, yet suffering the loss of their surplus earnings, the accumulations of years.

It is the reckless cutting of rates that has narrowed the facilities for sound insurance and driven many good old companies out of business. A reaction is already taking place, however, and in many cities rates are being strongly advanced—a necessity which no good business man, who looks thoughtfully over the statistics published by the various state insurance departments, can fail to recognize.

Prominent in the list of companies named by your informant as having succumbed to the disasters of the past year, is the Queen, of Liverpool. It is well known, however, that this company did not "throw up the sponge" or "retire from business." The simple facts are that the Queen and Royal Insurance companies amalgamated something over a year ago, but still continued business in this country as separate organizations until November 1 1891. Then the business of the Queen was taken over by a new organization, the Queen Insurance company of America, formed from the old company and assuming its business and obligations, with a cash capital of $500,000 and a net surplus of over $1,000,000. Thus the new Queen goes right along, in the hands of the former agents of the English company, without jar or friction, and wholly without loss or inconvenience to its old customers. Nevertheless, it remains true that the year 1891 was a terribly disastrous one for insurance companies, 38 stock companies having reinsured their business and retired, 7 mutuals doing the same, while 8 stock companies and 29 mutuals failed without protecting their policy holders.

Following is a list of the stock companies which reinsured during the past year. It includes nearly all the companies mentioned in your article:

Company.	Capital.	Reinsured in
Alta, Cal....	$100,000	Connecticut
Amazon, O...	300,000	Royal

Prud'al, Mass.	200,000	Home
Prud'al, N. Y.	200,000	American
Potomac	100,000	Germ. Am.
Rome, Ga....	100,000	Com. Union
Savannah, Ga.	200,000	Hartford
Southern Cal..	200,000	Lon. & Lan.
Standard, Mo..	200,000	Phenix, N. Y.
Union, Ky....	100,000	Germ. Am.
Western, O...	100,000	Citizen's, O.

The stock companies which failed are the following:

	Capital.
Capitol, Topeka, Ks.	$ 50,000
Columbia, Miss.	100,000
Fidelity, Huron, S. D.	100,000
Nebraska Fire, Omaha	100,000
North Pacific, Wash.	200,000
Shreveport Fire, La.	200,000
West Coast, Wash.	150,000
Western Home, Iowa	200,000

Of the mutual companies which went wrong the list is more formidable than you would probably care to find room for.

The startling fact remains that the fire waste in the United States during 1891 was probably not less than $140,000,000, and that while so much capital has been wiped out, insurable values are increasing and the demand for sound insurance must increase proportionately. This demand can only be met in the future by the adoption of adequate rates and the arrest of demoralizing tendencies.

Toledo, Jan. 19, 1892.

SAFETY IN THE MIDST OF DANGER.

This would seem a contradiction—is so, in fact, to the eye. But experience has proved its possibility. Take the case of the individual who dwells in a malarious region. A robust constitution is no certain defence against the dreaded chills. What is? Recorded testimony, covering a period little short of half a century, proves that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely this. This continent does not limit the field where the medicine has proved its efficacy. In South America, the Isthmus of Panama, Mexico, everywhere in fact where miasma-born disease takes on its most obstinate and formidable types, the Bitters is a recognized specific in illimitable demand, and prescribed by physicians of repute. Potent, too, is it in disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, and against that destroyer, la grippe. It improves appetite and sleep, neutralizes rheumatism and kidney complaints.

BOUNTY ON SUGAR.

The Revenue Office Preparing to Pay for Sweetness.

Deputy Clark Tells What is to be Done—There Will be Several Appointments Made.

"The time for maple sugar making is drawing near," remarked Deputy Revenue Collector Clark to a Bee this morning, "and the McKinley law authorizing the payment of a bounty to licensed sugar growers will operate for the first time. We have 20 licensed sugar makers on the list in this district. Sugar making will be commenced next month, and we are now preparing to comply with the provisions of the new law in this respect. It is a new duty with this office, and it requires some time to post up in the details, as there is the customary red tape connected with the departure.

"There will be several appointments to be made. First, an inspector will be required. The law requires that the sugar be 90 per cent. pure. It will be the inspector's duty to visit these camps and test the quality of the product and report the results to Washington.

"Then there will be four collectors appointed. It will be their duty to go and weigh the sugar and report the same to Washington, from where the bounties will be paid. These appointees will be paid for what they do, but their term of office will extend through sugar making time only."

NEW CONGRESSMEN'S BABIES.

The new member of Congress from the West is one of the characters of the capital He wears striped trousers, old-fashioned black string neckties, a slouch hat and big boots. He is earnest and studious and a good deal of a man. One thing that I like about him is that he brings his wife to Washington with him—his wife and baby—and is proud of them and they are proud of him. I have in mind one young congressman who walks to the capitol ervey session day with his wife by his side and his baby in his arms. The trio go in on the floor, and baby is perched upon the statesman's desk till the hour comes for clearing the floor. Then wife and baby go up into the gallery and sit all the afternoon or till the session is over watching hubby and papa legislate. It is only while the new congressman is very new that he does this. He soon gets over it, and then wife and babe are left in the background or perhaps at home in the far west.—Washington letter to Augusta Chronicle.

MOUNT OF FOOTPRINTS.

Rev. Owen Watkins has been prospecting in Mashonaland, in the interest of the Wesleyan Missionary society. In a recent letter he says he is presumably the first white man to see the Mount of Footprints, which he thus describes: "At last we came to one large mount of rocks on the top of the hills. Here are thousands of impressions on the granite rock. Hundreds of human footsteps, thousands of footprints of animals—lions, jackals, wolves and antelopes. On the top of the mount the appearance is as if a crowd of animals and men had rushed together in fright. At what ever period these footprints were made, it must have been before the outer surface of the rock had hardened. The distance from where the footprints begin to where they culminate on the mount is 200 yards.—Pall Mall Gazette.

GOV. CRITTENDEN KISSED PATTI.

The newspapers of Kansas City have revived the story of the kiss that Patti gave ex-Gov. Crittenden in this city, but in recounting it they make it a commonplace and unpoetic affair, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. They assert that the governor "smacked" the singer and walked out of the room. There was no smack about it. The diva had scored a triumph before a brilliant audience and the governor was yet thrilling with the exquisite melody of "Home, Sweet Home," which had rippled from her golden throat, when he met her at the hotel. Nicolini was down in the kitchen rowing with the chef over the oyster stew and Mrs. Crittenden was taking off her wraps. The thrilled and the thriller came together and the result was an electric contact, a soft, sweet, surging sound, like the suction of a steam pipe, followed by two sighs in unison. The governor murmured, "This is sweeter than 'Home, Sweet Home,'" and broke away just in time. When Patti was asked afterwards by a newspaper man to substantiate the details of the happy occurrence, she blushingly replied, "I never submit to an interview, but you know the facts."

THE LATE WEATHER.

O days of woe, of sleet and snow,
And snow and wind and rain together;
Of wind and rain and snow again,
And fog and ordinary weather!

Days drear and queer and dun and sere,
And damp and moist and wet and frightful;
These last have been upon this scene
That late we boasted so delightful!

O beauteous clime, where is the rhyme,
And where the rhymer deft to rhyme it,
In fitting flow of slush and snow,
To celebrate our glorious climate?

And therefore we e'en pity thee,
Whose tribe with rage and rheuming fill us—
Thou poor befogged and science dogged,
Half-drowned, un-"downed" old grip bacillus!

FRIENDS.

Let us be friends: we may not now be more;
Your silent glances make but poor amends
For all my pain. Speak as you did before—
Let us be friends.

Love to my heart its fire no longer lends;
'Tis chilled and hardened to its very core;
No quickening beat your presence now attends.

Yet would I not forget the joys of yore;
And now that Fate has worked its cruel ends,
Shake hands and smile; for my sake, I implore,
Let us be friends.

Bagging tomatoes was an experiment the past season which gave excellent results. The fruit ripened 10 days earlier than that which was not bagged. A curious result was that while bagging grapes retarded the period of ripening, the bagging of tomatoes had the opposite effect. Tomatoes that were bagged also ripened more completely around the stems. Bagging is done by simply pinning paper bags over the young fruit.
